The children's enthusiasm carried them from one side show to another, to the penny toss, fortune telling booth and to the ring events presided over by a ring master at the Appleton Recreation Department's Big Carnival Wednesday.

The week at the playgrounds was spent in preparation for the big day. The children rounded up prizes for the carnival with a scavenger hunt on Monday. Tuesday the hum of planning and publicity took over. Wednesday proved it was worth it. As children and their families flocked to the ticket booth and then on to the big show.

The Call of the Carnival barker, Sean Roberts, drew the youngsters into the carnival's side show complete with "invisible fish, a headless hydra, a three-legged wonder and a water color exhibition."

Farm Safety Week Set by President

BY LOIS BLACKBURN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

President Lyndon B. Johnson has proclaimed July 19 to 25 as National Farm Safety Week. "I should wear comfortable close-fitting clothing. Loads should be pulled with a drawbar only. When on public roads, use signals for stopping and turning just as if you were driving a car. Allow no riders unless the tractor has provisions for them. All safety shields should be kept in place. To avoid tractor upsets, exercise caution while driving across, up or down steep slopes or uneven ground. Sudden starts, sharp turns, excessive speeds can also cause tractor upsets.

tor engine should be refueled and they should observe the "No Smoking" rule as they fill the tractor tank. The operator should wear comfortable close-fitting clothing. Loads should be pulled with a drawbar only. When on public roads, use signals for stopping and turning just as if you were driving a car. Allow no riders unless the tractor has provisions for them. All safety shields should be kept in place. To avoid tractor upsets, exercise caution while driving across, up or down steep slopes or uneven ground. Sudden starts, sharp turns, excessive speeds can also cause tractor upsets.

Use of Chemicals

Concentration on the safe use of farm chemicals is another phase of the 1964 National Farm Safety Week.

When using chemicals or pesticides always read the label and note warnings and cautions before opening the container.

Pesticides should be stored outside the home, away from food and stock feed and out of reach of children and pets. It is safest under lock and key. Avoid inhaling pesticide sprays or dusts and do not spill on clothing. If they are spilled remove contaminated clothing at once and wash skin thoroughly. Clothing should always be washed before wearing it again if worn when spraying or crop dusting. Pesticide containers should be disposed of in a manner that poses no hazard to humans, animals or plants. If symptoms of illness appear during or shortly after using pesticides, call a physician or take the patient to a hospital immediately.

TAFFY'S TIPS
By Dolly Martin

MAIL CALL
Dear Taffy:
Should a girl kiss on the first date?
Sincerely,
Just Wants To Know
Dear Just Wants To Know:
I have one thought on the subject of kissing on the first date. "Don't!" Why? Because nine times out of ten, if a boy is bold enough to ask you on the first date, he's bold enough to tell every fellow he knows about it. Some boys just like to collect kisses just as you collect autographs from your favorite stars or stamps for your stamp collection. Young girls should actually date in pairs and not linger too long at the doorstep, because some boys think that you want them to ask you for a kiss. If you're past the spin-the-bottle stage, you're old enough to know that a boy won't think any less of you if you refuse. But don't hurt his feelings by acting as if he has said something very improper to you.

Keep happy,
Taffy

SEAMS TO ME Gusset Pattern

By Patricia Scott

Why is a gusset used? If a sleeve is too short to permit the arm to be raised easily, it needs a gusset. This gusset will relieve strain and add comfort. It is usually a square with opposite points fitting into a slashed opening and to the under arm seam.

One-piece gusset: If the pattern doesn't call for a gusset and you wish to add one, mark a diagonal line for a slash about 3 1/2 inches long. Before slashing, I feel it is absolutely necessary to reinforce the points. This may be done with ribbon seam binding, the same color as the garment.

Place binding on stitching line; stitch to point; now pivot the garment on needle and fold over binding, placing the edge on opposite side of slash. Then, take one stitch across point, catching edge of binding. Turn garment and continue stitching (Figure 1). Now, slash to the point and turn ribbon to wrong side. Turn evenly on stitching line and press.

If you prefer, you can reinforce the points by making a small bar tack at each point.

To Make Gusset

1. Cut a 4 1/2 inch square of matching fabric, on the straight grain. Pin gusset in place and stitch, starting from one-half inch to nothing on slashed edges (Figure 2).

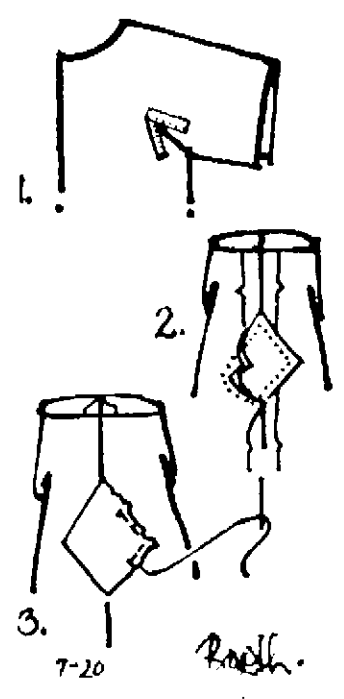

2. Press seam away from gusset and edge stitch on right side.

If you still have difficulties, try this. Take the 4 1/2 inch square and press under seam allowance on all four sides. Then place wrong side of gusset over slashed opening on right side of garment. Your gusset should then be fitted and pinned in place (Figure 3).

Slip-baste gusset to slashed edges. Your gusset is neatly basted in place, ready for machine stitching. Stitch over this basting line; press seam away from gusset and edge stitch on right side.

Two-Piece Gusset: Mark at underarm as for one-piece gusset and apply following the same principle, this time working with two pieces. After gussets are stitched, press seams away from gusset. Edge stitch. Then, stitch underarm seam, including gusset sections in one continuous line.

You may have noticed that in some ready-to-wear clothes, the designers often extend the gusset the full length of the sleeve so the gusset forms a part of it. The method of inserting this of this guide to correct fitting, write to Patricia Scott in care of the Appleton Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover costs of printing and handling.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

WHOSE RING?

Dear Louise: Ever since my marriage 35 years ago, we and another couple had been inseparable. It was a very unusual and happy foursome. A year ago my husband died and a few months later, the wife in the other couple died too. Although it had never previously entered our minds, I will be married to the widower in three weeks. We have been discussing a wedding ring and both of us wonder if it would be correct for me to wear the same one I have been wearing. My fiancé is in favor of it because of his deep and long friendship with my former husband. But we both leave it up to you for the decision.

Louise Davis Answers:

The solution to your problem is for you and your fiancé to decide. But my advice is that you start out your new marriage with a different wedding ring. Otherwise, the one you are wearing now would be a constant reminder of your life with your first husband. I don't think that you would wish to wear that ring any more than you want to wear the wedding ring of your fiancé's first wife. You are beginning a new life which I'm sure will be a happy one.

Be On Time

Dear Louise: When invited to dinner, what time should we arrive before the meal?

Louise Davis Answers:

Guests should arrive punctually at the time specified by the hostess. She may say, "Come to dinner at 7 o'clock" even though she may not serve until 8 o'clock.

Shadow Falls Over Scranton's Career

BY RICHARD L. GRAVES
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The cloud of delegate votes that eclipsed William Warren Scranton's presidential nomination bid also cast a long shadow across his political figure.

Politicians are loathe to enter the public career of any current office holder with the election record of the slim, affable Pennsylvania governor.

But at the same time there are facts that weigh heavily in an assessment of Scranton's prospects in the years ahead—particularly 1964, another presidential year.

No 1 fact: Scranton is a governor who can not succeed himself.

Differin Position

Thus, his position is different from that of two other notable politicians who turned convention defeat into victory four years later—the late President John F. Kennedy and the new Republican presidential nominee, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Kennedy, defeated at the 1960

Democratic convention in a bid for the vice-presidential nomination, came back like a whirlwind during the next four years to win the top spot and the election.

Goldwater was placed in nomination at the 1964 GOP Convention, but withdrew in favor of front-runner Richard M. Nixon. The move set Goldwater up as a major contender four years later in the wake of Nixon's defeat by Kennedy.

Both Men

But both men had a political base. Both were U.S. senators—one of the best forums in politics to use for political advancement.

But under Pennsylvania law Scranton may not succeed himself, though he could again run for office after an intervening term. Elected in 1962 by a margin of 688,000 votes, he now is in the middle of his four-year term.

That means the base of his political power—chief executive of a major state—will be cut off at the end of 1966. With one possible exception there would be no office open that year that he could seek as a springboard for 1968, should Goldwater fail to win this fall. There is no senatorial election in 1966.

Consequently, should Scranton have presidential aspirations in 1968, there would be a two-year gap in his public career.

The still young Scranton—he'll be 47 Saturday—is the multimillionaire son of the family that gave the city of Scranton, Pa., its name.

Private Resources

With his private resources, plus his prestige as a former governor and presidential aspirant, Scranton probably could keep himself in the public eye on the lecture circuit and by writing articles.

No 2 fact: Almost all Pennsylvania Republicans, starting with Scranton himself, feel that Goldwater's nomination means a desperate state campaign to salvage control of the legislature, maintain the present 14-13 GOP edge in congressional seats and re-elect Sen. Hugh Scott, Scranton's convention floor manager.

The one possible office Scranton might consider—and the prospects hinge on results this fall—would be his old congressional seat in Pennsylvania's 10th District.

Democratic District

The seat presently is held by Republican John McDade. But the district normally is Democratic. With Goldwater as the candidate Republicans fear they will lose it.

That possibility could open the door for Scranton to retrace his political rise—from ships castings most efficiently, congressional candidate to presidential contender in less than four years—from his original agricultural, construction, municipal political base. The two-year term would carry him until 1968.

But old pros in the political arena generally figure a man like Scranton, however, has said he wouldn't consider the House of Representatives a step down. Besides, he liked the job when he had it.

Sunshine and Sunlamp Yield Ultra Violet Rays

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My teenage daughter is self-conscious because she doesn't have a tan. She doesn't enjoy lying out in the sun, and she really does not tan readily. So she wants to use a sunlamp. I have read about the danger of the sun causing skin cancer, and wonder if the lamp would be better. At least it would be more comfortable and faster, she thinks.

— MRS. W. C.

An ordinary amount of sunning, whether outdoors or with a lamp, seems to do no harm. Excessive exposure does, whether from the sun or from a lamp. In either case, it is the action of ultra-violet rays.

The danger arises when exposure continues for a long time, and is repeated year after year. Susceptible are sailors, farmers and sometimes people in the south who get too much sun. And we could add persons who regard a leathery tan as a status symbol.

If your daughter prefers a sunlamp, that's all right, but she should use it gradually enough so that she doesn't burn. However, I doubt that she would be tempted to cook herself to a harmful degree.

Dear Dr. Molner: My gynecologist-surgeon doesn't have time to explain to me the use of the hormone "estrogen" following a radical hysterectomy (removal of both ovaries, tubes and uterus). What would happen if I didn't take it and what if I took too much? Is it dangerous?

— MRS. J. R.

The hormone is extremely beneficial and not dangerous when taken with ordinary good sense. What it boils down to is this:

25 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, asking for a copy of "Make Menopause Easier." It includes scores of common questions and their answers.

Dear Dr. Molner: My blood was recently tested for diabetes and it was 102. My doctor told me not to worry. At what level should one become concerned?

— D. G.

This depends on when the test is taken, in relation to meals. If it was taken before breakfast, it is normal. If it was taken after a meal, then the reading is normal, to understand what menopause yet it does not rule out the possibility of "change of life" is, and bulim of diabetes.

But if the test was taken one or two hours after a meal, then detail, in my new booklet of the reading leaves you in the "Menopause." If you want it, clear.

The reason? Many mild diabetics have a normal fasting blood sugar, but this quickly goes to high levels after eating.

If there is even slight suspicion of diabetes, either in your history or symptoms, a further test, called a sugar tolerance test, will give a more definite answer.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any special diet for a person who has developed a hiatal hernia? I am 63. Does this condition tend to get worse? — C. A. M.

For the average hiatal hernia, no special diet is required. If the patient is too heavy, he benefits by losing some weight. However, if the case involves burning in the pit of the stomach, bleeding, or regurgitation of acid material, a bland diet is advisable.

Hiatal hernias may enlarge, but more often they do not. When symptoms persist, surgery may be necessary.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write for my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Brooke Says He Will Not Support Sen. Goldwater

BOSTON (AP)—Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, a Negro and a Republican, says he will not support GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater unless he disavows many statements.

Brooke said, however, that he would not leave the Republican party or campaign for President Johnson.

Brooke, who holds the highest elective office of any Negro in the nation, told newsmen Sunday night he was particularly upset with Goldwater's declaration that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice." He said Goldwater's acceptance speech "came perilously close to a call to arms for both the radical left and right."

Brooke, who is seeking reelection, also said he finds "great fault" with the voting record of Rep. William Miller of New York, the GOP vice presidential candidate.

Shipments of Iron Castings Close to Ideal

Gray and ductile iron casting shipments by Milwaukee area foundries in June increased to 99 per cent of ideal capacity, according to the monthly survey by Gray Iron Founders Society, Inc. Previous month's level was 85 per cent.

In June GIFS survey, 154 reporting gray and ductile iron foundries in the United States and Canada reported shipments of 105,325 net tons. This total includes 101,686 tons gray, 2,238 tons ductile and 1,401 tons high alloy.

June shipments were 94 per cent of ideal capacity, an increase over the 89 per cent figure reported in May and up from the 79 per cent recorded for June a year ago.

The quarter ended June 30 was an improvement over the first three months of this year on an average monthly ideal capacity basis: 94 per cent versus 89 per cent. The second quarter average showed a marked gain over the same period a year ago 94 per cent versus 81 per cent.

Ideal capacity is the level at which a foundry produces and ships castings most efficiently. Production includes components for automotive, machine tool, agricultural, construction, municipal, oilfield, textile, and other markets.

Fox Valley industries which are members of the GIFS are: Alton - Chalmers, parent company of Valley Iron Works, Appleton; Brillion Iron Works; Green Bay Foundry and Machine Works; Neenah Foundry Co., and Universal Foundry Co., Oshkosh.

Ku Klux Klan Claims Growing Membership

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Leaders of the Ku Klux Klan claim growing membership in their invisible empire because of white resentment to the civil rights law.

"There has been a tremendous reaction to the civil rights bill and this is bringing about a swelling of Klan membership," says Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton Jr., Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Shelton, thin and soft-spoken, has preached "ballots not bullets" in the past several years, trying to rebuild the old Klan with a new nonviolent image.

A salesman, he is titular head of the United Klans of America Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is larger and better organized.

Klan leaders openly supported former Gov. John Patterson in his campaign and Shelton said, "We elected two governors—a reference to Patterson and his successor, Gov. George C. Wallace. Neither man repudiated the Klan."

Sheriff Melvin Bailey of Jefferson (Birmingham) County, most populous in Alabama, said the Klan "is fairly strong in certain areas, particularly around Tuscaloosa."

In Mississippi, the Americans for the Preservation of the White Race is very active although the Klan appears to be growing there.

Shelton made an inspection of the Philadelphia, Miss., area after the disappearance of three civil rights workers. He said it was a hoax and added, "My people will continue the investigation."

Klan leaders in Mississippi and Louisiana refused to discuss their organizations.

Some indication of the probability that the Klan will able Klan gains was provided by recent rallies near McComb, Miss., and Bogalusa, La.

A Klan attorney, J. B. Stoner of Atlanta, played a prominent role in a white resistance campaign at St. Augustine, Fla. He was the main speaker at many nightly segregationist rallies, although the affairs were not billed as Klan-sponsored.

The Klan claims considerable strength in the St. Augustine-Jacksonville area.

Racial issues The Klan's official line on racial issues is set down in a leaflet distributed by Shelton's organization.

"The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is not the enemy of the Negro," it reads. "We hold it is obligatory upon the Negro race and upon all other colored races in America to recognize that they are living in the land of the white race by courtesy of the white race."

"They must not lose sight of the fact that the white race is the heritage and that it does not intend to surrender this right or to compromise it with any other race—black, yellow or brown."

Law Abiding The leaflet also says the Klan is "strictly law abiding... Every member is sworn to uphold the law, and any member violating this oath would be ban-

Sheppard Faces Future With Hope

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard, happy in his freedom from prison and his new marriage, faced the future today with hope and fear.

He and his bride of two days, the former Ariane Tebbenjohanna, a German divorcee, made arrangements to fly to New York City. She said they would have interviews there, but she didn't go into detail.

"We cannot make any plans," she told a newsman. "We'll stay available. Perhaps by Wednesday we'll be able to say more."

Sheppard walked out of the penitentiary Thursday on the order of a federal judge who ruled he did not have a fair trial.

The next step in the case will be taken Wednesday. A three-judge panel of the 8th U.S. Court of Appeals will decide day Dr. Sam will have to go back to the penitentiary.

But Dr. Sheppard and his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, said they expected the physician to remain out of prison, where he

Dr. Sheppard, 40, and the 26-year-old blonde he married Saturday dined with friends in their honeymoon hotel Sunday and received telephone calls from others.

He spoke of teaching or doing other non-medical work until his license to practice medicine is restored. Or, his new wife suggested, he could do administrative work in his family's clinic in Bay Village, Ohio. They plan to live in Rocky River, another community in the Cleveland area.

Under Shadow While obviously happy, Dr. Sheppard told a reporter he is living "under the shadow of rearrest and retrial."

But he also said: "I do not expect to be sent back to prison."

Bailey, Boston attorney who became interested in the case in 1961 and who helped Sheppard gain his freedom, was more positive.

If a court should order him any back behind the bars, Bailey doubt whatever that Sam said. "I'll get a staying order won't go back—at all," he told a from the U.S. Supreme Court.

Klan Claims There is no possible way of checking Klan claims or their strength, since rank-and-file members are anonymous and their leaders refuse to divulge any figures or identities.

The robes order, once known for its night-riding terrorism, appears strongest in parts of Alabama, Mississippi and Florida. The Klan apparently has been gaining in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

In North Carolina there was a sudden spurt of Klan activity during the past month. Klansmen chased a group of white and Negro teenagers out of Elm City after the group said they would repair a Negro church there.

Grand Dragon James R. Jones of North Carolina twice went to the church to warn against the integrated effort but the group went ahead with the work this week. Two men were arrested after an attempt to burn the church.

Elsewhere in the South there is little outward indication of a resurgence of the Klan.

Other segregationist groups have cut into the Klan's field since the U.S. Supreme Court order against segregated public schools 10 years ago.

Citizen Councils White Citizens Councils appeared over the South and other groups became more active—along with the Klan.

"There are a lot of synthetic organizations but people soon see that they are not the Klan," said Georgia's grand dragon, Calvin F. Craig of Atlanta.

Craig, an ally and subordinate of Shelton, said interest in the Klan has intensified since the civil rights law was enacted.

"The letters are beginning to come in," he said. "Two-thirds of the mail is from Northern states. Membership is growing tremendously."

"We chartered six or seven new units in Georgia in two weeks."

Pacific Allies U. S. Agree to Resist Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and two Pacific allies—Australia and New Zealand—pledged Saturday "further concrete steps" if necessary to defeat Communist aggression in South Viet Nam.

A communique issued after a two-day council of ministers meeting of the alliance also firmly backed Malaysia and warned Indonesia that force must not be employed in violating its territory.

In a third danger area, the three nations expressed grave concern over the intervention of Communist North Viet Nam and Laos and the recent attacks by the Communist Pathet Lao forces against the Lao government.

Back Savannah Full support was given to the demand by neutralist Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma that Communist forces withdraw from the Plaine des Jarres which was seized in an offensive last spring.

After the two-day meeting Secretary of State Dean Rusk told newsmen that Australia, New Zealand and the United States, who have been cooperating since World War I and World War II "share the same objectives across the board" in the defense of security in the Pacific.

Fodder for Wisconsin Democrats

Interpretations of Barry's Views, Positions Trouble GOP Politicians

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO—Sen. Barry Goldwater's remarks at the first meeting of the Republican national committee following his nomination provided, in vignette form, a problem that worries some local politicians in Wisconsin and across the country.

The presidential nominee was explaining to top party organization men the close liaison he intends to maintain with the party workers, as nominee, and as president.

As he concluded he asked: "Are there any questions?" There were no questions, and he grinned.

"At least I have made myself clear."

Democrats Happy

The problem of elucidation and amplification of Candidate Goldwater's views and positions may be a troublesome one for Wisconsin Republicans as they enter into biennial combat with their Democratic foes who have already shown they are prepared for the Goldwater selection, are happy about it, and expect to exploit it to their own advantage.

At the national Republican committee strategists and the Goldwater campaign managers appraise the map of the country. Wisconsin is one of the promising states.

Wisconsin may expect a fairly intensive campaign effort from Goldwater and the party, on the basis of its electoral behavior in the past.

The state has given a majority of its ballots to the Republican nominee in four out of the last five presidential elections.

If this state cannot be listed as prospectively friendly territory, then the Goldwater campaign has dubious prospects, indeed, as campaign planners see it.

Contemplating a seemingly nominal re-election problem in his own Seventh Congressional District this year, Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Marshfield will be under considerable demand for stumping on behalf of other congressional candidates and the national party ticket in other parts of the country.

The man who caught the notice of the nation for his work as chairman of the Republican convention platform committee has already been scheduled tentatively for numerous appearances in other parts of the nation by the Republican congressional campaign committee, reported Ed Terrill, a former Wisconsin man who is one of the staff workers of that organization.

Ask Instant Action to Restore Park

A threat in the sides of county supervisors the past month—the short-lived Plannam Park Road—was thrust deeper today by Town of Grand Chute residents demanding instant action to restore the park to its previous state.

Six residents of the county's park committee meeting today demanded a motion that work be begun to remove the traces of the roadway which was to skirt the park and service property near the park in the Town of Grand Chute.

Committee members today agreed to tour the area and decide what steps can be taken to appease the residents who, on June 12, objected to the roadway being built. Committee members gave assurances a culvert will be removed at the site and the site will be restored to its natural state "for all practical purposes."

The roadway had been sought by Arthur Lecker, Town of Grand Chute chairman and a board supervisor, to provide entrance to property owned by his relatives. An easement was granted from the county by the Town of Grand Chute which had planned to build the road.

Objectors, however, have convinced both the county and the town to rescind action on the road.

Committee members said about $344 in work was done before the road project was halted. They estimated another $400 would be needed to restore the park area.

Called to Grass Fire

Volunteer firemen of the Town of Vendenbrook were called about 1:30 p.m. Friday to extinguish a grass fire along state 96 across from the Ray Arnoldussen farm, west of Little Chute.

At one of the numerous high level receptions held in the convention headquarters hotel where many of the Wisconsin politicians were lucky to have quarters during the last week, a former Republican president, a former Republican presidential nominee, and the prospective Republican nominee of this year were observed in animated conversation.

What were Mr. Eisenhower, Mr. Nixon and Mr. Goldwater chatting about?

One observer pressed close for eavesdropping and offered this account:

They were talking about the strain of shaking thousands of hands during a political campaign and the best grips to use to reduce wear and tear.

Some Wisconsin delegates and visitors found the city of San Francisco and its pleasant and bountiful diversions more costly in personal budget terms than they had anticipated.

Probably an average expenditure of $1,000 for the politician and his wife who stayed a week is a conservative figure. Several persons were overheard saying that Chicago should be the site of future conventions of both parties, by mutual consent, and for the convenience of delegates from the convenience of the sections of the country.

Kaukauna Could Be Site of University

Education Group Member Says Minimum 200-Acre Site Needed

KAUKAUNA — The city could center of the seven-county region and already has Lawrence University and is near the Menasha UW center.

State Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, said the group should analyze why Kaukauna should be the site so it can present its case well. He said the legislature would study location carefully before allocating any funds for the institution.

The committee considers the area between Kaukauna and De Pere as the logical center location for the university, planned to serve Door, Kewaunee, Manitowish, Brown, Outagamie, Winnebago and Calumet counties, according to Stehr.

Stehr said if Kaukauna wants the new institute, it should have a representative on the education committee. He said the Kenosha-Racine area also are seeking a new four-year school, and gaining priority would be competitive.

Help Select Site

A Kaukauna person on the committee would be more familiar with plans for the new school and would be a great boon in selecting its potential site, Stehr said.

A minimum of 200 acres, possibly more, would be needed for the site, he said. Although Appleton probably would want to be the school's site, Stehr said the city probably would not qualify because it isn't in the Family of Eight Seeks New Farm Home After Fire

Fire which Tuesday night burned the farm home occupied by the Charles Deeg family in the Town of Vendenbrook has forced the family to begin a search for a new dwelling. Deeg has indicated he prefers a farm home.

The farm home, owned by Harvey Foch, was not burned too badly although extensive smoke damage was reported by Edward Sprangers, volunteer town fire department chief. The fire, in a closet, destroyed much of the family's clothing and charred walls in a bedroom and bathroom.

Readings in 80s, 90s

Rain Today Fails to Halt Hot Weather

BY HENRY SEMON

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Today's brief rain may have brought temporary relief to sun-soaked Fox Cities citizens, but the .18 inch of precipitation only temporarily halted the climb of the temperature and the discomfort index.

The current heat wave started Wednesday when the temperature soared to 86. Successive readings included Thursday's 94, Friday, 94, Saturday, 86, and Sunday, 84.

More important than the temperature, however, is the discomfort index reading, which

Chicago (AP) — The U. S. Weather Bureau issued this severe thunderstorm forecast for southeastern Wisconsin:

A few severe thunderstorms with large hail and locally damaging winds are expected this evening until 6 p.m. CDT in the approximate area along and 60 miles either side of a line from Joliet, Ill., to 40 miles northeast of Traverse City, Mich.

tells how temperature and humidity affect people.

Readings on the index for the same period were Wednesday, 74; Thursday, 80; Friday, 82; Saturday, 75 and Sunday, 82. A reading of 79 on the discomfort scale means that all people feel uncomfortable.

A reading of 75 is interpreted as meaning that half the people feel uncomfortable, and 70 indicates that some people feel uncomfortable.

The index read 75 before today's rain, which started about 9:30 a.m. and lasted about 30 minutes. It had risen to 78 by 10:30 a.m.

The temperature, which was 79 before the shower, was lowered to 75 during the rain, and was at 77 by 10:30 a.m.

June Readings

The current hot spell followed a June which had nine days with an 85 or above temperature. Eight of these readings hit 90 degrees and above and six were in succession at the end of the month.

Only four days in June, however, registered discomfort indexes of 79 or more.

July's high temperature so far has been 96 which was registered on the 17th and tied the record for that date.

Six days so far have registered temperatures above 85, while three times the thermometer has gone to 90 or above.

Five days have had discomfort indexes of 79.

The normal number of days in June which register temperatures of 90 degrees or above is two.

Normally July has five readings of 90 or above.

The June high exceeds that of June, 1963 by two degrees. The high last year was 93, while the mercury soared to 95 this past month.

A temperature of 85 degrees or better was reached 13 times in June, 1963, while four days registered 90 degrees or above. The discomfort index read maximum seven times.

Support Trend

Figures from July and August of last year also seem to support the trend that this year isn't having as many days with readings of 85 or above, but that its hot days are hotter, hitting 90-95, while fourteen days were previous years.

Named in 16 Warrants

Blacketer and Taylor have been named in 16 warrants charging them with theft by false representation. Hanaway said additional charges may be made while others may be dropped, depending on evidence available to substantiate the charges.

Authorities also said they recovered about $6,000 of the missing merchandise and expect to recover the rest in the Nashville, Tenn. area. The recovered merchandise had been sold to a Louisville appliance dealer.

The pair obtained the television sets from the William Van Dornen Co., 314 N. Monroe Ave. The air conditioners were obtained from Boulder Parts Co., 1500 S. Chestnut Ave.

Also involved are alleged bad checks and the theft of other merchandise.

Admits Drunkenness

OSHKOSH — Gene Haute, 27, 407 Fourth St., Neenah, was fined $75 and costs in Winnebago County Court, Branch 3 today after he pleaded guilty of being drunk and disorderly at his home. He was arrested at 11:15 p.m. Sunday.

above 85. Only two of these times, however, did the thermometer go to 90. Seven days had discomfort readings of 79.

The heat seemed to taper off in August of last year, as the high was only 87. There were no days with 90 degree readings.

Eight days hit 85 or better, however, and two days of maximum discomfort were recorded.

Temperatures will have to climb quite a bit to reach record proportions. The mercury rose to the 100 mark eight times in July, 1958.

Appleton's highest temperature was recorded Monday, July 13, 1936, when the thermometer shot to 107. There appears to be little chance of such a high reading this summer.

Appleton is no different than other Wisconsin cities with its heat wave. Eau Claire has led the Badger state the past two days, with the thermometer hitting 102 there. It cooled off to 101 Sunday.

Humidity has coupled with the high temperatures in other sections of the state to send the discomfort index soaring.

Milwaukee had an 81 degree reading and 85 per cent humidity for a discomfort index reading of 79 at midnight.

Ninety-plus readings also were registered in Lone Rock, 96; La Crosse and Madison, 97; Wausau, 86, and Milwaukee, Park Falls and Beloit, 91. Green Bay was relatively cool with 85.

Appleton hit 94, with a low of 73.

Pair Accused Of Confidence Game Arrested

Men Allegedly Had Netted $12,000 in Green Bay Operation

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY—Two men accused of operating a confidence game that netted about $12,000 worth of merchandise here have been arrested in Kentucky and will be returned to Green Bay to face charges.

The pair was arrested last week in Louisville, Ky., and waived extradition to Wisconsin over the weekend following questioning by local officials who flew to Kentucky Thursday.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Donald Hanaway said the pair, Donald Taylor, 24, formerly of 1718 Douglas St., and William Blacketer, Indianapolis, Ind., were arrested and are being held in Louisville pending the arrival Thursday of Sheriff William Swanson, who will return them to Green Bay.

Blacketer operated under the name of William Parker while in Green Bay. Hanaway said a search is being continued for a third man, whom he declined to identify, other than to say he headed the operation that netted 11 television sets and 10 air conditioners from two Green Bay merchants.

In addition, the pair is reported to be under federal indictment as the result of alleged mail fraud scheme involving banks in Kentucky and Georgia.

Taylor's wife, who left Green Bay with her husband, also was not arrested. There are no charges pending against her, Hanaway said, contrary to previous reports.

Named in 16 Warrants

Blacketer and Taylor have been named in 16 warrants charging them with theft by false representation. Hanaway said additional charges may be made while others may be dropped, depending on evidence available to substantiate the charges.

Fire Damage Estimates Lowered

Menasha Firm Has Salvage

MENASHA — Estimates on damage to the fire-racked Menasha Corp. today were reduced by nearly $3 million by Menasha Fire Chief Cornelius J. Rippl, who said in his opinion damage will not be much more than $1 million.

Rippl said the reason for the lowered estimate is the probability of extensive salvage. He said most of the machinery was not severely damaged. Even the presses may be salvaged, he said.

Rippl said the building is not valued too highly because of its age and condition.

Prepare Report

He said a complete report will be issued on the fire within the next 48 hours.

Various estimates on damage caused by the fire at first ranged from $3 to $4 million. At Records Were Rushed to Safety in the huge fire at the Menasha Corp. Friday, but Saturday they were hauled back to the offices again. The fire was confined to the converting building. Losses weren't as great as originally feared. Above, Menasha Corp. employees haul the records back, while at the left, a couple of firemen snatch a few minutes rest. Crews from six departments fought the fire Friday afternoon and night until early Saturday morning and Menasha crews remained on duty through a good share of Saturday.

Injured Released

NEENAH—Officials of Thea Clark Memorial Hospital announced today that two persons injured in the Menasha Corp. fire Friday, Lyman Depner, a Menasha fireman, and Clarence Gosser, company employee, were released from the hospital Sunday in apparently satisfactory condition.

that time, however, there was no way of estimating how much property and equipment could be salvaged.

The building was fully insured.

The corrugator, roll stock and boiler areas were not badly damaged. Corrugating operations are expected to be resumed within a few days.

Nearly all converting stock and some warehoused materials were destroyed. The Milwaukee Road railroad lost three box cars parked on a siding north of the building. One was fully loaded.

Several costly items of machinery recently installed in the building were not damaged as reported by various sources Saturday.

Firemen Return

Firemen returned twice to the fire Sunday and early this morning.

They were summoned at 12:40 p.m. Sunday when fire flamed up in bales of paper. Firemen stayed at the scene until 6:55 p.m.

At 4 a.m. today they again returned for two hours when a box car blazed up.

The original fire started shortly before 2 p.m. Friday.

The blaze left two persons injured. Nine persons in all were reported injured but most received only minor abrasions and bruises.

Several firemen were treated at the scene of the fire for smoke inhalation.

Fight Blaze

Hundreds of firemen, police, auxiliary police and volunteers fought the blaze.

Nine fire trucks, including six pumpers were in action during the fire. Fire departments responding to the alarm were Menasha, Neenah, Appleton, Oshkosh, Town of Menasha and the Joint fire department of the Towns of Neenah-Menasha.

Fire Chief Rippl this morning highly praised the Town of Menasha Fire Department for the role it played in the blaze. The town department was nearly entirely responsible for fighting the blaze on the east side of the building. Many of the department's men waded in the river in order to fight flames.

Salvage operations at the company began even while flames were still flaring through the building. They were in full scale this morning.

Walter Stommel, Menasha Corp. personnel manager, said the office will operate as usual today.

Bleiers Nips Jitter's 1-0, In ASA Tourney

FOND DU LAC — Bleier's of Appleton nipped Jitter's and Joe's 1-0 Saturday, knocking Jitter's out of the semi-finals at the Fond du Lac district softball tournament.

Jitter's outbatter Bleier's, gaining 6 hits to the latter's three. De Young tripled in the seventh for Menasha. Reinert, Lappen, Ihde and Malchow got singles and Kosiorok smacked a double.

Winning pitcher Bob Diener fanned three and allowed no walks. De Young, charged with the loss, struck out five and walked three.

The lone run for the winners

Menasha Corp. to Rebuild or Relocate

MENASHA—A study to determine whether the Menasha Corp. will rebuild its fire-damaged building or to move operations to a new location was announced this morning by the corporation president, Richard L. Johnson.

Johnson said a decision will probably be made within the next week.

Engineers moved in this morning to begin a survey of damage and to determine whether the burned walls of the building will be allowed to stand or be torn down.

Five Potential Sites

Johnson did not say where any potential sites for constructing a new building are located. However, the Menasha Corp. owns 19 acres of property west of the George Banta Co. property in the Town of Menasha.

One company official this morning said five potential sites are being studied.

The official said the company wants to remain in Menasha if possible.

Long range plans called for a move in the sixth inning, when Kirkland tripled and scored on Grishaber's single.

Jitter's will play Dag's Drive-In of Appleton Thursday.

Commission Sells Sewage Treatment Plant to Green Bay

Twin-Cities' Equipment Is Bought by City

BY GERALD W. ODOM Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — The Green Bay Metropolitan Sewerage Commission has purchased the pilot sewage treatment plant owned by the Neenah-Menasha Sewerage Commission for experimental treatment of activated sludge, primarily for area industries, engineer-manager David Martin of Green Bay said today.

The Neenah-Menasha Sewerage Commission announced negotiations with Green Bay two weeks ago on possible sale of the plant, which was installed here last September in a study of sewage treatment in the Twin Cities.

The Twin Cities will construct a $1.6 million secondary sewage plant based on information obtained from the pilot plant.

Martin said the commission purchased the two-tank plant for $10,000. Original cost of the equipment was $22,000 and was borne by the two cities. Officials in Menasha estimated about half the cost could be salvaged with sale of the facility.

The two tanks, one inside the other, stand 16 1/2 feet high and are 26 feet and 12 feet in diameter.

Braves Take Fourth Place

Face Twins in Exhibition;
Open Set With Phils Tuesday

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves are thriving on doubleheaders in their surge toward the top in the National League race.

The Braves swept their fifth twinbill of the season and third in a row Sunday in defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2 and 5-4 and moving into fourth place before a crowd of 23,374, including 22,989 paid, at County Stadium.

In maintaining a streak as hot as the weather, the Braves bounced back from an 8-2 defeat Saturday night and closed to within six games of the first place Philadelphia Phils. Milwaukee has won 10 of its last 13 games and 16 of the last 22.

Aided by the hitting of Frank Bolling, Hank Aaron, Rico Carty and Mike de la Hoz, right-hander Tony Cloninger posted his ninth victory in the opener. Cloninger, who has lost eight, struck out six and walked only two in defeating the Pirates for the fourth time this year.

Fifth Sweep
The Braves broke loose for five runs in the first inning of the nightcap and held on in completing their fifth sweep, tops in the league. Southpaw Denny Lemaster was relieved after five innings by Hank Fischer, who blanked the Pirates the rest of the route. Lemaster picked up credit for his 10th victory in 16 decisions.

Bolling, the slick-fielding second baseman who has had trouble getting going at bat this year, drove in three runs in the opener with a pair of key singles. Then he added two more rbi's with a first inning single in the nightcap.

Aaron had three hits in the first game and one in the second as he boosted his average to .320, equaling his lifetime mark. Carty, rookie left fielder who has become the "people's choice" in Milwaukee, collected three hits and then came back with two more in hiking his average to .333.

De la Hoz, filling in at third base for Eddie Mathews, who pulled a groin muscle Saturday night, had three singles in the opener.

Lemaster was lifted after serving up a three-run homer to Roberto Clemente in the fifth. After ending the inning, he gave way to Fischer, who stopped the Pirates on four hits the rest of the way.

Exhibition Game
The Braves had a break in the schedule today, but traveled to Minneapolis for the annual charity exhibition with the Twins.

The Jets asked waivers from Jerry Tost, quarterback from West Virginia; Don Quinn, Wyoming tackle; Bill Lazroe, tackle from West New York, N.J.; Jay Lustig, place kicker from New Haven, Conn.; and John Chandler, defensive back who was placed on the Jets reserve list, leaving 63 players in camp here.

Northern Division Stars, Kaukauna Battle to 2-2 Tie in 12-Inning Contest

KAUKAUNA—A 3-fold combination of fine defensive plays also resulted in the Northern Division all-stars and the Kaukauna Legion baseball team playing to a 2-2 deadlock for 12 innings and then halting play here Sunday afternoon.

The combination that brought the decision to halt play included the scorching heat, traveling distance for some players and the fact that most teams will be involved in tournament play which opens tonight.

The all-stars scored single runs in the second and third innings and Kaukauna scored a run in the first and another in the third.

9 Scoreless Frames
The deadlocked score remained through the next nine innings. Both teams had scoring threats and on two different occasions runners were thrown out at the plate.

Miss Nienhaus Seeks Medal in Women's Event

State Amateur Starts Today at Manitowoc; Favor Mrs. Williams

MANITOWOC (AP)—Three-time champion Mrs. Marilyn Williams of Pewaukee was favored to regain her Wisconsin women's golf title as a field of 88 teed off today in an 18-hole qualifying round of the 52nd annual tournament.

The 16 low scorers will head into match play Tuesday in quest of the title held by Carol Sorenson of Janesville in four of the past five years. The 21-year-old Miss Sorenson is seeking to regain the Western amateur title this week at Oak Park, Ill.

Mrs. Williams interrupted Miss Sorenson's string of victories in the state tournament by capturing the championship in 1961. Mrs. Williams, defeated by the Janesville collegian 3 and 2 in last year's semifinals, previously won the state crown in 1957 and '58.

Seeks First Title
Seeking her first state title was Mrs. John Erickson, wife of the University of Wisconsin basketball coach. Mrs. Erickson lost to Mrs. Williams in 37 holes in the 1961 final, and then was defeated by Miss Sorenson in the title showdown a year ago.

Other strong contenders included Northeastern Wisconsin champion Kathleen Curran of Antigo; Mary Beth Nienhaus, last year's state medalist from Appleton; and Kay Pierson of Beloit, the 1963 Wisconsin junior title making her first appearance in the adult ranks.

Carol Jean Sorenson of Racine, defeated by Miss Pierson in last year's final, headed a field of 28 in the junior division. Mrs. H. F. C. Brown returned to defend her state title in the senior event.

A tuneup for the state competition was held with a pro-am best ball event Sunday at the 6,500-yard Branch River Country Club course, which has a women's par of 78.

The Bass Lake Country Club, represented by pro Pat Patton and amateurs Kathleen and Mary Curran and Jane Ondrcek took top honors with a 61. Portage Country Club was second with 62, while La Crosse, Westmor, Lake Delton, North Hills and Tumblebrook tied with 63.

Dennis Lappen pitched the first six innings for Kaukauna and Dave O'Brien hurled the last six. Between them they fanned 13 all-star batters.

Ken Frauling, Doug Kolb, Terry Ferron and Frank Lieschow took turns on the mound for the all-stars and the quartet fanned 17 Kaukauna hitters.

Kaukauna's first inning run counted when Dennis Hilgenberg and Bud O'Brien singled and a pair of walks forced a run across. The second run for the hosts crossed the plate in the third when Hilgenberg walked, moved to third on a single and scored on a fielder's choice.

The all-stars scored in the second when Dennis Brandenburg reached second on an error and counted on a single by Clintonville's Vaughn James. A single by Gary Lutz and an error gave the all-stars two base runners in the third. Lutz was forced at third, but John Moriarty of New London scored on Brandenburg's hit.

Scoreless Frames
The deadlocked score remained through the next nine innings. Both teams had scoring threats and on two different occasions runners were thrown out at the plate.

Foxes Bow Home Stand

Decatur '9' Foe Again Tonight

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Sunday night's heat did not produce any scorching hitting as the Fox Cities Foxes opened a 4-day home stand by bowing to Decatur, 4-0, at Goodland Field.

Both teams managed only four safeties, but one was an inside the park home run on what normally would have been a routine fly ball except that it was lost in the lights. The homer, by Jack Disser of Decatur, came with a mate aboard in the fourth and provided the Commodores with the margin they needed for victory.

Tonight the Foxes and Decatur tangle again in an 8 p.m. tilt. It will be ladies night and knothole night at the ball park. All ladies will be admitted for 25 cents.

Steve Carla started for the Foxes.

Homers Pace LC-K To Win Over Fondy

Neumeier's Grand Slam Features 10-5 District Tourny Victory

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
MENASHA—Using a barrage of home runs, Little Chute-Kimberly won its sixth Northeastern Wisconsin district semi-pro tournament championship in the last eight years by toppling Fond du Lac, 10-5, Sunday afternoon.

The Menasha Macs took away the third place trophy by scoring a 9-2 triumph over Junction City.

The village combo had won the title five straight years until dethroned by Menasha in 1962. The Macs also won last summer but were eliminated by Fond du Lac in Saturday's semi-finals.

LC-K sluggers found the range for six homers, twice as many as Fondy.

Grand Slam
The crusher was a grand slam by catcher Lee Neumeier in the ninth inning, increasing the spread to the final five runs from an unsafe one.

Fondy's Jim Kalk loaded the bases with none out and appeared to be getting out of the inning on a line drive and a strikeout. However, Neumeier sent a screaming drive up against the Wire Works building in left center to ice the verdict.

Gene Peerenboom hit two homers for the victors and Hank Peerenboom, Roger VanderWyst and Williams accounted for the others. Every run was produced by a homer.

Fond du Lac had 4-base blasts by Scott Childress, Bob Felda and Bob Young. For Felda, the clutch was his fourth of the meet.

Little Chute-Kimberly led 2-1 after two innings but the score was tied 3-3 at the close of the third. Hank Peerenboom's fourth inning blast untied the score and the victors were never to trail after that although the way the baseballs were flying Angeles, went 4-for-8, including over the fences, no lead was safe two homers, and drove in six runs as the Angels swept Minn.

Al Harke started for the nesota 8-4 and 4-0.

4-2 in Opener Nichols Cards g 67 to Win Tournament Rally by Nicklaus; mer Tie for Second

(AP) — It is this year for Nicklaus to alien off a major championships, the Masters, the British Open, and the PGA, and meant that big Jack will not be around for the ultrarich television world series which he won the last two years.

"It was probably the finest round of golf I ever played," Nicklaus said. "It just wasn't good enough."

Nine Threes
So torrid was the pace that Mason Rudolph, the Tennessee boy who wears thick eye glasses, shot a 69—with nine threes on the card—and faded to fourth at 271, nine strokes behind Nichols. U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, a tough man when it gets hot enough to poach eggs on the fairways, finished with 33 on the back nine for 69 and 279. Callison Duplicates All-Star Feat, Phils Cling to Thin Lead Ninth-Inning Home Run Gives Philadelphia Twin Bill Split

BY DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Bateman and Johnny Callison played give-and-take with the National League lead but the Milwaukee Braves made their mark playing leap-frog.

Mountain catcher Bateman flashed a two-out third strike in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader against San Francisco and two pitches later Jim Ray Mart homered for a 4-2 Giants victory.

The Giants also won the nightcap 1-0 and had the league lead in their grasp until Philadelphia's Callison took it away from them.

The Phils had dropped their doubleheader opener to Cincinnati 7-4 and were trailing 3-1 in the second game when the Giants-Colts final was posted on the scoreboard.

3-Run Homer
Then Callison duplicated his All-Star game heroics with a three-run ninth inning homer. The Phils held on for a 4-3 verdict and a first place margin of four percentage points over the Giants.

The torrid Braves trimmed Pittsburgh twice 6-2 and 5-4 and climbed from a tie for sixth place into fourth, six games off the pace.

They now have won 10 of their last 13 games and 16 of their last 22.

Cubs Pound Bams
Elsewhere in the NL, the Chicago Cubs pounded out 27 hits for 8-2 and 9-1 decisions over the Los Angeles Dodgers while St. Louis rallied for four ninth inning runs and edged the New York Mets 7-6 in the second of a pair after the Mets won the opener 3-2.

"That passed ball changed this club's whole feeling," Giants' Manager Alvin Dark said after the double victory. "We had gone bad, there's no doubt about that."

The Giants had lost five in a row and were tied 2-2 in the eighth inning of the first game. With two outs, Colts' pitcher Dick Farrell fanned Orlando Cepeda but the ball eluded Bateman and Cepeda reached first. Hart followed with his 13th homer, a 450-foot wallop to left centerfield.

Scored Only Run
Willie McCovey beat out a first inning bunt, took second on an error and scored the only run of the second game on Willie Mays' single. Bob Shaw and Billy Pierce put down a Colt rally in the ninth after Bob Hendley had pitched a four-hitter through eight.

Callison's 15th homer, off reliever Bill Henry, followed a single by Clay Dalrymple and a walk to Cookie Rojas. The Reds rallied for a run in the bottom of the ninth but Chris Short came out of the bullpen and got Vada Pinson to hit into a game-ending force play.

Pinson's second triple, a single by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich's two-run homer overcame a 4-3 deficit in the eighth inning of the opener.

Dick Ellsworth pitched a five-hitter against the Dodgers in the opener and the Cubs collected a dozen hits, including two-run homers by Ernie Banks and Billy Williams.

250th Start
Lew Burdette allowed six hits in the second game and Ron Santo went 3-for-5, including his 17th homer, to lead the 15-hit attack Burdette, making his 350th NL start, won his sixth game in eight decisions.

Dick Groat's fourth hit of the second game scored Ken Boyer with the winning run and capped the Cardinals' ninth inning explosion. Boyer had doubled home Lou Brock for a 6-6 tie.

All three Met runs in the open- were unearned. Jack Fisher scattered eight hits for the victory.

Chance Pitches Third Straight Shutout as LA Hits First Division

Chisox Win Pair From As, Trail Baltimore by One

BY MURRAY CHASE Associated Press Sports Writer

People can say a lot of things about Dean Chance, but one thing they have to say is he's patriotic.

Chance, 23-year-old pitcher for the Los Angeles Angels, paints the town red, whitewashes the opposition and makes them feel blue.

The ace right-hander pitched his third straight shutout and sixth of the season Sunday as the Angels stopped Minnesota 4-0 for a sweep of their double-header and moved into the American League's first division for the first time since the first week of the season. The Angels won the first game 8-6.

Has 1.76 ERA

Chance, whose nights—and early mornings—on the town with teammate Bo Belinsky threatened to become legend in their time, hasn't allowed a run in 27 innings since he started for the AL in the All-Star Game.

In a nine-day period, he blanked Chicago on four hits, Detroit on five and Minnesota on four. And while increasing his record to 8-5, he has reduced his earned run average to 1.76, best in the majors.

Only Whitey Ford, 12-3, has more shutouts this season. The Yankee veteran has seven, but he has made four more starts than Chance.

Meanwhile, Ford and his New York teammates were the victims of another shutout. Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 23-year-old Cuban right-hander, stopped the Yankees 3-0 on four hits in his first major league game. The Yankees won the opener 6-2.

Streak Halted

Not so fortunate as Chance, Tiant was Wes Stock, a reliever whose 12-game winning streak was halted by the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 13 innings. Stock hadn't lost since July 12, 1962. Chicago also won the second game 4-3, moving into second place, one game behind league-leading Baltimore.

The Orioles edged Detroit 5-4 while Washington nipped Boston 5-1 in 10 innings after losing the opener 11-0 in other AL action.

Chance walked one and permitted only one runner past first base in the nightcap. His main support came from Joe Adcock, who slammed two bases-empty home runs. Lou Clinton homered following Adcock's first blast in the second inning.

Adcock drove in four runs with a double and a single in the opener as the Angels built an 8-0 lead. Helped by shortstop Jim Fregosi's two-out error, though, the Twins rallied for six unearned runs in the seventh.

Rich Rollins hit his first career grand slam, and Harmon Killebrew added his 33rd homer, a two-run blast.

Struck Out

Tiant, brought up by the Indians only last Friday, allowed only a bunt single by Tom Tresh in the first five innings. He struck out 11 and walked four as he outpitched Ford. The Yankee southpaw exhibited unusual wildness, walking three Indians in the first inning, the last one forcing in a run.

Clete Boyer and Tresh each drove in two runs in the opener for New York while Roland Sheldon scattered seven hits. Two of the hits were homers by Tito Francona and Larry Brown in the second.

Stock, who had won four games this season, was the victim of a two-run pinch-hit homer by pitcher Gary Peters in the 13th. Peters twice fouled off pitches attempting to bunt before connecting. Athletics starter Diego Segui gave up a bunt single in the first, then held the White Sox hitless until he left after walking the leadoff batter in the ninth.

Dave Nicholson's two-run homer and Ron Hansen's solo blast offset Rocky Colavito's bases-empty homer and Jim Gentile's two-run homer for the A's in the second game.

Powell Homers

Baltimore got solo homers from ood Powell, Sam Bowens and Charley Lau in the only single game on the majors' busiest day of the year. Rookie Wally Bunker won his 10th game against two defeats although he needed relief help. Jerry Lumpe, Dick McAuliffe and Bill Freehan homered for the Tigers.

Mike Brunley's two-out single in the 10th inning gave the Senators a second-game victory. Boston scored three runs with the help of three Washington errors, two by Ed Brinkman, who homered and scored the winning run after singling.

Don Lock drove in six Washington runs in the doubleheader with two homers in the opener, two doubles and a single. His first-game hitting was overshadowed by Ed Bressoud's three-run homer, two-run homers by Tony Onigliaro and Felix Mantilla and solo blasts by Carl Yastrzemski and Dick Stuart, all for the Red Sox.

'Need a Big Man at Center' Skoronski Adds 25 Extra Pounds To Green Bay's Offensive Line

GREEN BAY (AP) — The cause he weighs some 25 more pounds than Ringo. "Basically we're a running team and we need a big man at center," Kramer said. "Last season the defenses were putting a big man on Ringo's head like the Eagles, he'll continue to be an all-pro. But we still need a big man at center. Skoronski has tremendous desire and he's got the size that definitely will help us."

Monday, July 20, 1964 Appleton Post-Crescent 56 Bailey Vs. Bailey

'Iron Man' Makes Big Play in Braves' Sweep

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Second baseman Frank case of "Bailey vs. Bailey" resulted in a decision for Milwaukee's Ed Bailey, who went through his knee and helped the Braves to motion hurriedly to avoid a balk and fired to Ed Bailey. The husky receiver went down on one knee to block the plate and applied the tag on his namesake for the third out, preserving the Braves' one-run margin in a 5-4 victory. Milwaukee won the seventh inning of the nightcap 6-2.

Bob Bailey and coach Frank Ocek bitterly protested the decision by plate umpire Ed Vargo. Bailey and Ocek finally were ejected.

"It wasn't even close," said Pittsburgh's Bailey, "although I'd say one thing—Ed turned in a terrific play. Ed did tag me while he was on one knee, but I had already crossed the plate when Vargo finally did see the play."

The Braves' Bailey admitted that both he and Fischer were caught flatfooted by Bob's dash for the plate.

"I didn't see the guy until he was about 10 feet from home plate," Ed said. "Fischer didn't see him before Bolling yelled. Then Hank threw the ball hurriedly."

The Braves' catcher said that although he blocked the plate and tagged the runner "I don't honestly know whether it was in front of the plate, on the plate or behind the plate."

He didn't wait around while Bob and Ocek protested. He ran to the dugout to try and cool off while some tempers frayed hot.

Twilight Loop Honors Shared

KAUKAUNA — Rich Quella, Lorenz Mayer and Wayne Hull all fired scores of 34, one under par, to pace action in the Twilight League at Fox Valley Golf Club.

Runnerup honors went to Gene Ploetz and Don Peeters with scores of 35. Coffey Motors continued to lead the team standings with 441 points after downing Hartjes Insurance 49 - 31.

Quella Foods is second with 429 points.

Top team score for the week was turned in by Bowling Bar, a 54-26 winner of Heindel Interiors.

U. S. Assists Britain
In Underground Test

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—
President Johnson announced
Saturday that the United States and the United Kingdom jointly tested a low-yield British nuclear device underground in Nevada on Friday.

Johnson said the test at the Atomic Energy Commission test site was requested by the British government. It was conducted under the August 1950 aid agreement between the two at countries for cooperation on the use of atomic energy for mutual defense purposes, he explained.

"Both governments were sa-cal and military benefits could be obtained by testing a British nu-part of a continuing nuclear research program," he added.

Johnson's statement said the test carried out was in the by agreement with the Ameri-

Ford Frick to coincide with a meeting of the two major leagues to be held Aug. 11.

Reuss Disappointed At Giles' Reaction

NL Chief Says Pooling of TV Receipts And Expansion are Impractical Now

By RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rep.
Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said
Saturday he is disappointed at the unwillingness of Warren C.
Giles, president of the National League, to take steps which Reuss said are essential to the future of organized baseball.

Reuss' statement followed a letter from Giles in which he told the congressman that the pooling of television receipts seems impracticable.

Giles also said, in regard to a suggestion for expanding the major leagues, that this seems to him to be most impracticable at this time.

Reuss had asked Giles to call a meeting of National League club owners soon to discuss the possible move of the Milwaukee Braves to Atlanta, which has been widely discussed.

Meeting Set

In reply to this, Giles said it is customary to have a league meeting in mid-summer and Giles said no consideration the date of Aug. 10 was fixed should be given to this until the agreement with the American League and Commissioner

Negro Killed, Over 100 Persons Injured In Harlem Rioting

Missiles Thrown From Roofs, Crowds Tear Down Barricades

NEW YORK (AP)—Missiles rained from roofs, crowds knocked down barricades, fists and knives flashed in the steamy heat, and police guns barked. Harlem was rioting.

While temperatures soared Saturday and Sunday nights in the packed Negro section, police and Negroes locked in surging fights in which one Negro was shot to death. More than 100 persons were injured, including two dozen patrolmen.

Plate glass windows fell in slivers and more than a score of stores were looted. One super-

2 Shooting Incidents in Atlanta Area

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Two shooting incidents involving Negroes and whites struck the same neighborhood within hours of each other over the weekend.

The neighborhood—where Negro and white residential sections meet—had these incidents Saturday night:

—A white family told police that four Negroes in a passing car fired a shotgun blast at them, wounding two members of the family.

—Police said the white owner of an integrated restaurant shot another white man who was trying to eject Negroes from the establishment.

Educator Slain
Last week, Lemuel Penn, a Negro educator from Washington, D.C., was slain as he was driving through rural northeast Georgia.

As in the Penn case, still unsolved, Gov. Carl E. Sanders instructed agents of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation to aid local police in their investigation of the shotgun incident.

"We are going to pursue this just as vigorously as we have been pursuing the unfortunate slaying of Lemuel Penn in north Georgia last week," Sanders said.

"When I say we are going to maintain law and order, I mean this: and it applies to all citizens—white or Negro," he added.

In the second incident, police said Maurice Lawson, 22, was in satisfactory condition at a hospital recovering from a stomach wound inflicted by a pistol.

Police arrested a white restaurant owner, Redell Crosby, and charged him with shooting Lawson. Crosby was released on $1,000 bond yesterday.

106 Japanese Die In Rains, Slides

TOKYO (AP)—At least 106 Japanese are dead and 31 missing as a result of disastrous rains which triggered floods and landslides in central and western Japan over the weekend.

Police said at least 24,000 persons were homeless and at least 219 injured.

The rain measured 5 to 13 inches along the coast.

Shimane prefecture, 400 miles west of Tokyo, was hardest hit.

Say Rebels Hold Most Portuguese Guinea

CONAKRY, Guinea (AP)—Three Portuguese deserters from Portuguese Guinea claim that rebel forces control all of that tiny West African territory except Bissau, the capital, and several towns.

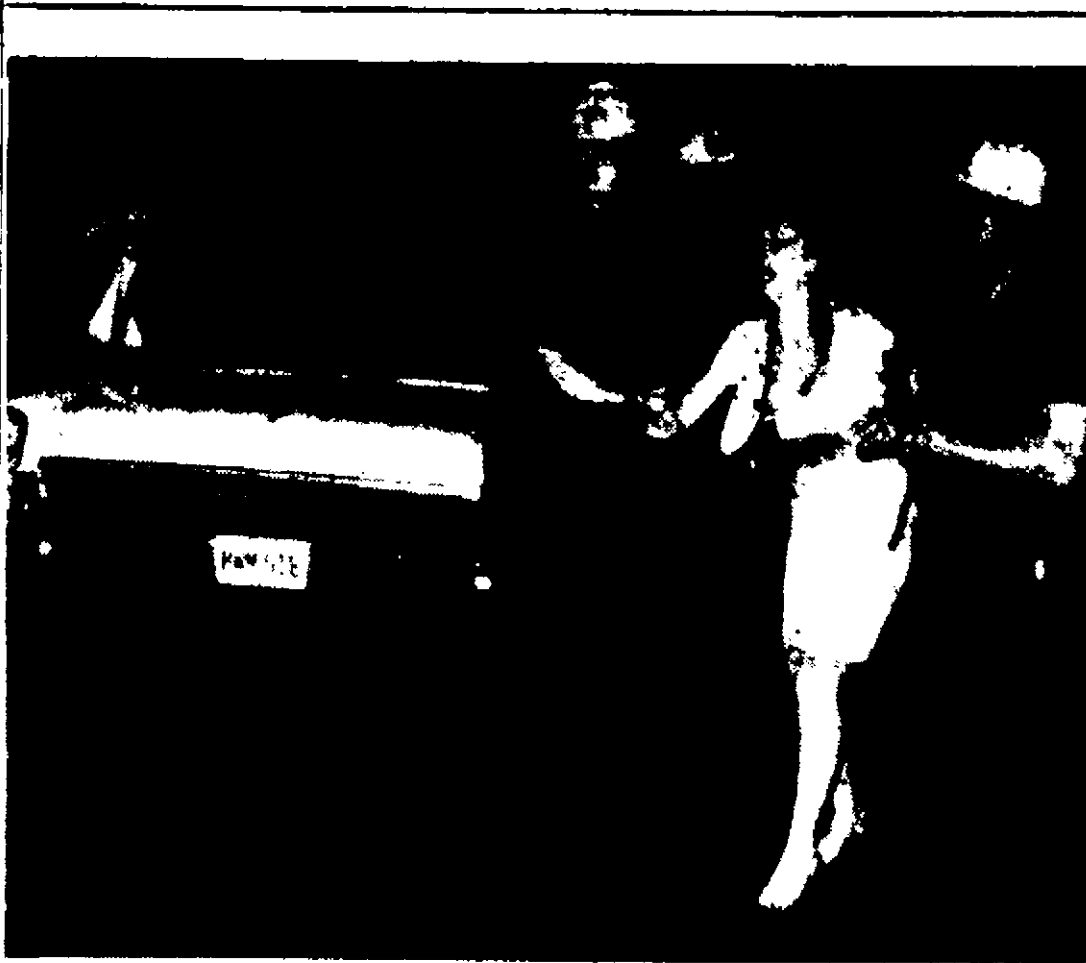

Santos Carvahi, 38, former sub-chief of security police in Bissau, said he deserted to "protest the violence and oppression" of Dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's regime.

Portuguese Guinea, which is virtually worthless economically, has a population of 500,000. Including 4,000 rebels have been fighting a sporadic guerrilla war against about 10,000 Portuguese regulars.

All three were taken to The da Clark Hospital, Neenah, in the Neenah city ambulance.

Miss Weyenberg died of a fractured skull and spine. Miss Pruess received a possible fractured shoulder, contusions, abrasions and lacerations. Klapps had cuts and abrasions.

Hospital authorities today described Miss Pruess' condition as "satisfactory" and Klapps as "good."

Winnebago County police said the car went off the left side of Fraiview Road and travelled 200 feet before crossing the road, going into a ditch where it travelled another 197 feet and finally overturned in a field.

Miss Weyenberg's body was found on the ground 27 feet ahead of the car.

Miss Pruess, who was visiting relatives in Neenah, said she was asleep in the back seat of the car when the accident happened.

She told police she heard Miss Weyenberg telling Klapps to slow down and then heard an impact of something hitting the side of the car.

Non-Swimmer

He was believed to be a non-swimmer who had waded about 75 feet from shore where there is a sharp drop-off. Three youths tried to rescue Schmidt when he called for help, but he disappeared beneath the water before they could reach him.

After dragging operations by sheriff's department crews, the King fire department and volunteers were unsuccessful, the body was recovered about 7 p.m. in 20 feet of water by a skin diver.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Ryan Funeral Home, De Pere.

Miss Weyenberg was one of 10 persons killed on Wisconsin highways during the weekend.

Guerrillas Hit Mekong River Delta Hamlet

Kill Women and Children on 10th Anniversary of Pact

BY PETER ARNETT

MY THO, South Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas smashed into the Mekong River delta town of Cai Be today and slaughtered women and children in a grisly commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the Geneva agreements that gave North Viet Nam to the Communists.

U.S. advisers said 40 dependents of military personnel and 12 military defenders were killed in Cai Be, a district capital 50 miles southwest of Saigon. They found the bodies of women and children in fire-blackened wreckage of the town.

Flows to Hospital
Among the dead was a 10-year-old daughter of the Cai Be district chief, Maj. Le Thuan, who himself was wounded.

Forty other women and children, injured in the attack, were flown to hospitals in Saigon and in My Tho, the provincial capital.

"I hope Ho Chi Minh (North Vietnamese leader) sleeps well tonight," a U.S. adviser said bitterly after he had seen Cai Be. "All the Viet Cong succeeded in doing today was to build up their reputation for needless terrorism. They got nothing militarily out of this."

Early Morning Attack
A Viet Cong battalion, numbering about 500 men, launched the assault at 2:30 a.m., concentrating on district headquarters buildings and family homes of the 200-man civil guard garrison. Houses were burned to the ground.

A barrage of mortars and recoilless rifle fire cut into thatched-roofed homes. The Viet Cong briefly took over the district.

Alabama Governor Says Time Will Tell if His Vote Goes to Goldwater

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—nominee, but each signed an Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, confident his anti-civil rights campaign has been successful, withdrew Sunday as an independent presidential candidate.

Wallace said he was withdrawing because his objective has been accomplished. He said: "There is now more states rights talk than in a quarter of a century. I was the instrument of this. My message has been heeded."

He pledged endorsement to no one in advance. To newsmen who asked if his withdrawal meant most of the vote he would have drawn would now go to Republican Barry M. Goldwater, the Alabama governor said only: "Time will tell."

He indicated he would know more after next month's Democratic national convention at Atlantic City, N. J.

Wallace, a Democrat, said he would support the major party candidate who proved to be the more conservative and zealous in supporting the principles of local government, private enterprise and states rights.

Reaction Mixed
The governor's withdrawal took many of his Southern supporters by surprise. Some expressed disappointment. Others were pleased, saying his action leaves Southern conservatives a clear-cut choice between President Johnson and Goldwater.

Within hours after his appearance in Washington, Wallace returned to Birmingham for a hastily assembled strategy meeting with his slate of unpledged presidential electors.

Lt. Gov. James Allen, leader of the slate, announced afterwards that the presidential electors "have no intention of delivering the Democratic machinery over to the Republicans."

Allen declined to say who the electors might support, and said they would wait until after the Democratic convention to decide.

There are 10 unpledged elector nominees. When they qualified to run they were not required to promise to support the national Democratic party.

Goldwater's Kin Believed Nazi Victims

KONIN, Poland (AP)—The mayor of this river town in central Poland said today U.S. presidential nominee Barry Goldwater's Polish kin probably were killed by the Nazis.

The Arizona senator's grandfather, a Jewish peddler named Michael Goldwasser, emigrated from Konin in 1848 when the town was under Russian rule, according to U.S. biographical information made available in Poland.

Mayor Zdzislaw Szklarkowski suggested the Goldwassers, who remained behind, probably were among millions of central European Jews liquidated by Hitler.

"If any of the 3,000 Jews in Konin before the war were Goldwassers, they are dead now," Szklarkowski said.

Had Large Family
"The Germans organized a Jewish 'camp' here and there were no Goldwassers among perhaps a score of survivors," he added. "It is quite probable that some Goldwassers were among the victims, since I understand Michael's was a large family. But there are none now."

The Nazis even brought some Jews from Austria here and shot them with the others."

Szklarkowski said the Germans also destroyed Jewish records and a check of the town archives has produced no trace of a Goldwasser family.

The mayor, who would be expected to reflect views of Poland's Communist central government, had this comment on Goldwater's nomination by the Republican party:

"It is no pride for Konin if the world learns he originates from here. We have other things to be proud of—our growing industry, which has transformed a backward little town into an industrial center."

Israel Denies Losing Jet Plane in Aerial Contest With Egyptians

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Israel denied reports that it lost a jet plane in an air battle with Egypt and suffered six casualties in a border clash with Syria Sunday.

In Cairo a military spokesman said four French-built Mirage Israeli jets were intercepted on a reconnaissance flight near Alexandria by Egyptian fighters. He said one Israeli plane was shot down and a second hit. Guantanamo Bay, Havana radio charged today.

An Israeli army spokesman called the Egyptian claim "a complete invention."

In Damascus, a Syrian army spokesman claimed six Israelis were killed or wounded in a 30-minute battle north of the Sea of Galilee. The Israeli spokesman confirmed the clash but denied the casualties.

Small Engines for Interplanetary Use Up 2,000 Miles in First Test

BY VERN HAUGLAND

WALLLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—The United States proved today that small electric engines—capable of developing speeds between 100,000 and 300,000 miles an hour and designed for future interplanetary flights—can work successfully in space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration launched two small electric rocket engines on a flight looping some 2,500 miles aloft. The flight lasted almost an hour and ended in the Atlantic 2,000 miles east of here.

One Engine Faulty
During the flight one of the two ion engines operated successfully for half an hour, turning on and off several times.

The other developed a short circuit from high voltage.

Until very recently many scientists have considered it impossible to start and operate an ion engine in space.

The scientists from NASA's

Lewis Research Center, Cleveland, Ohio, in charge of today's SERT I experiment—an named Space Electric Rocket Test—were elated at the results.

Information radioed back from the space capsule was so clear and complete and favorable that the scientists were able to report within an hour that all had gone

His wife, Mrs. Jean Gurlik, 30, received leg, shoulder and arm injuries. A son, Roman, 6, received a bump on his head, and a daughter, Susan, 3, received multiple abrasions.

The four youths were injured when an auto driven by Daniel Van Dyke left Calumet County Trunk KK three miles southwest of Kaukauna at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Struck Fence Post Van Dyke told a county patrolman he was attempting to take something from his glove compartment and looked up, saw he was on the left shoulder of the road and could not avoid hitting the entrance road to a field and a fence post.

The Gurlik family was injured when their auto, driven by the father, collided almost head on with an auto being driven by Edwin Hoefler, 30, route 4, Appleton on U.S. 10 about three miles east of Menasha at 7:40 p.m. Sunday.

Gurlik's auto was traveling west when Hoefler's auto, going east, passed another car, collided with Gurlik's car and went into a ditch, police said. Hoefler said after he started to pass he saw Gurlik's auto, applied his brakes and tried to drive into the ditch.

He said he received several commendations during that time.

A psychiatrist testifying for the prosecution said on Oct. 13 Dahlke had the ability and capacity to premeditate and to form intent. Dr. Rudolph Toller, Stockton, Calif., said he considered the defendant's IQ above average.

No Psychotic Disorder

He said the emotions of anger itself would not lessen the ability to form intent. He added that anger, fury and hopelessness coupled with a psychotic disorder would restrict the ability to premeditate and form intent, but he said that he found no psychotic disorder in Dahlke.

The jury listened to a one-hour tape recording of that interview made while the defendant was under hypnosis. Psychiatrists for both sides used the tape in their evaluation of Dahlke.

The taped interview included Dahlke's feelings concerning the day of the shooting. Statements by Dahlke included:

"Can't love a child. Watch parents. Get drunk in taverns. This isn't my wife. My wife is honest. Got to keep the family together. I love her. Don't you have a conscience anymore? You look like something out of Tobacco Road. You don't take anything serious. Stop screaming! Stop that filthy screaming, rotten mouth! It must be stopped. I pointed it (gun) at that face screaming those words. That ugly, ugly face. Close that filthy mouth. I shot until empty, then grabbed more bullets. She's gone. Got to get my boy back to safety. Wonderful boy. He doesn't need to know about this. Take her back in the trunk (to Oshkosh). Get her home. Jurors observed the scene of the crime Friday afternoon before being dismissed for the weekend.

"Bleeding Finger Dahlke said after he shot his wife he just sat there. He said his bleeding finger caused when the first round went through it, didn't make any difference. He said he saw a doctor and told him he accidentally had jabbed the finger with an ice pick.

Under redirect examination, by Dahlke's court-appointed defense attorneys, C. Stittine Young and Jerry Whitehead, Dahlke said while he was in Germany he spent his off-duty hours attending classes in conversational German, building model airplanes, organizing a German-American chess club and studying to apply for flight school.

He said he received several commendations during that time.

Psychiatrist Says Defendant Capable of Premeditation; Case Goes to Jury Monday

Reported to The Post-Crescent

RENO, Nev. — Prosecution and defense attorneys in the Douglas Dahlke murder trial here wound up examination of witnesses Friday and the case will go to the jury today.

Judge John E. Gabrielli decided closing arguments and his instructions would wait until today.

The defendant refused to touch the weapon he admitted he used to shoot his wife Gloria Jean, on Oct. 12, 1963, east of Sparks.

Shook Head Firmly Dahlke, an army dental technician, closed his eyes and shook his head firmly when prosecuting attorney H. F. Ahlswede asked him if he would demonstrate how he had pointed the gun at his wife and how he had shown her it was loaded.

Because of Dahlke's refusal, Ahlswede and his assistant, R. Gaynor Berry, acted out the parts of Dahlke and his wife sitting in the car on the afternoon of the shooting.

The prosecution demonstrated the actions Dahlke might have taken in shooting his wife four times, reloading and firing six more shots.

"I guess she was dead when I reloaded. I just don't know," Dahlke said.

Bleeding Finger Dahlke said after he shot his wife he just sat there. He said his bleeding finger caused when the first round went through it, didn't make any difference. He said he saw a doctor and told him he accidentally had jabbed the finger with an ice pick.

Powder Kegs

Many Countries Divided; How Did It Happen?

BY MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—War, the threat of war and acute political tensions have plagued the divided nations of Viet Nam, Korea and Germany. All are powder kegs in the world struggle between Communist and non-Communist forces.

They are heritages of war, mirroring the division between East and West.

Political unrest, including bloody coups, have flared in South Korea and South Viet Nam, where forces backed by the West have been struggling to establish themselves. Communist rule prevails in North Korea and North Viet Nam.

On the other side of the world West Germany has achieved unprecedented prosperity and emerged as a powerful force in the Western Alliance under a democratic system. East Germany is relatively poor and kept under tight Communist control—with the help of Soviet might.

How did Viet Nam, Korea and Germany become divided?

Viet Nam was divided at the 17th Parallel under an agreement reached at a 19-nation conference in Geneva in 1954 after the French defeat in Indochina. Unlike the situation in South Korea, a strong Communist guerrilla force controlled much of the countryside.

One of the decisions reached at the 1945 Potsdam conference by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union was to make the 38th Parallel the div-

Lawrence Says Conventions Often Confuse Voters, Issues

Campaigns Point Up
Need for Informed
Perceptive Electorate

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

EN ROUTE FROM SAN FRANCISCO — The tumult and the shouting are over, but the real battle has just begun. It isn't simply a debate between two rival candidates for the presidency. It is a struggle, by the use of all manner of communication media and party workers, to make millions of voters believe either that it will be a disaster to elect one nominee or that it means utopia to choose the other.

But things aren't always as political manipulation makes them out to be. How bewildering, for instance, to watch on the TV all the emotional demonstrations for Gov. Scranton and to hear him say harsh things critical of Sen. Goldwater and of the platform, only to listen to him the next night imploring his own supporters to unite behind the party's nominee. Indeed, the Pennsylvania governor, in a speech written before the roll call of states but read after Mr. Goldwater was victorious, said: "I shall work for and fully support the ticket chosen by this convention. Though many of us felt that the platform could be improved, all of us can find it acceptable."

This Is Politics
Then what was all the furor about? This, it must be said in reply, is politics, and it would not be half as ambiguous or misleading if the American people took the time to read, not just during a convention but through the years in between, the facts about their government and the practices of the politicians.

This correspondent has covered 13 national campaigns, beginning in 1912, and, with the exception of the conventions that year, has been present at the 25 conventions held since. They often leave an impression of confusion. Even the dictionaries do not give satisfactory definitions of words used in the war of epigrams. Nor can the state-ments that get the most applause on the stump always be readily understood. Sen. Goldwater, for instance, said to the convention in his acceptance speech:

"I would remind you that extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. And let me remind you also that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Not Wishes of People
This could be taken to mean that the Arizona senator was re-affirming the right of our fore-fathers to revolt against an Eng-lish king. It could mean that the disorderly demonstrations con-ducted recently by some of the Negro organizations are defensi-ble because the objective was to be wor-

The red-fuzzed members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine could have been aimed, on the one hand, at those who wanted to insert in the Republican plat-form a condemnation of "ex-tremism." Senator Goldwater affiliate continues through Fri-has since said that he didn't day with meetings, parades and have "political extremism" in special ceremonies.

The Shriners, from 167 Shrine Party conventions are some-temple, brought 75 brass times spectacular, but they do bands, 10 string bands, 60 Ori-ent always reflect the wishes of tal bands, 10 kiltie bands, 50 the people — and yet it is not drum and bugle corps and 20 easy to know what the people mounted horse patrols.

want or how they feel in sec-tions of the press, moreover, there is too much emotional criticism and of enough objec-tive analysis. Sen. Goldwater has been portrayed for instance, as an irresponsible, imprudent and impulsive man. He has been thus pictured by some writers and speakers in this country whose viewpoint is accepted as gospel by European editorial writers, and the latter now hy-sterically predict America is about to go down the drain.

Nor can it be said that an op-position party either here or in Europe always exercises fore-bearance when it comes to char-acterizing the incumbent. So, the shouting are over, but the campaign will be a battle of words — of invectives and innuendoes, of glowing promises and boast-ful pledges by both sides.

Spread Distortions
Yet, when the votes are finally counted, it will be found that the collective judgment, even if wrong, puts into the White House a man who feels the re-straints of a tremendous respon-sibility and of a trusteeship that includes concern for the lives and welfare not only of the members of his own party but of all the people.

As for international affairs, no man in the White House is ever going to precipitate war or do anything rash, but here again distortions can be spread. Words of appeasement, on the other hand, may sound as if they are pacific and prudent, but often they merely stimulate the poten-tial enemy to take chances, and then war comes. Both world wars of this century might have been prevented if some of the resoluteness which is called "war mongering" today had been present then in the govern-ments of Western Europe and in the United States, too.

Maybe someday presidential campaigns will stress the in-tegrity and common sense of a candidate and not what he said in a speech years before or how he voted when he hadn't quite realized the true pressures of public opinion on a given issue. It is most important that there should be an informed elector-ate and a perceptive one. Other-wise, the wiles of party poli-tics tend to blur the image of a system of government which, after all, must depend for its effectiveness on the support of patriotic and intelligent voters. Senator Advocates Bombing Communist Facilities in Laos

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., advo-cating bombing of Communist supply routes and other facili-ties in Laos and North Viet Nam, says he would support "whatever measures are neces-sary to win" in that area.

"If we first made up our minds that we're going to win, everything else would fall into place," Thurmond said during questioning Sunday on the re-corded television program "Youth Wants to Know."

On a domestic matter, Thur-mond predicted that the South will obey the civil rights law, but will fight it with every legal means.

150,000 Shriners at New York Convention

NEW YORK (AP)—The Shriners, 150,000 strong, are in town for their 1964 convention. The red-fuzzed members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine could have been aimed, on the one hand, at those who wanted to insert in the Republican plat-form a condemnation of "ex-tremism." Senator Goldwater affiliate continues through Fri-has since said that he didn't day with meetings, parades and have "political extremism" in special ceremonies.

Fodder for Wisconsin Democrats

Interpretations of Barry's Views, Positions Trouble GOP Politicians

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO—Sen Barry Goldwater's remarks at the first meeting of the Republican national committee following his nomination provided, in vignette form, a problem that worries some local politicians in Wisconsin and across the country.

The presidential nominee was explaining to top party organization men the close liaison he intends to maintain with the party workers, as nominee, and as president.

As he concluded he asked: "Are there any questions?" There were no questions, and he grinned: "At least I have made myself clear."

Democrats Happy
The problem of elucidation and amplification of Candidate Goldwater's views and positions may be a troublesome one for Wisconsin Republicans as they enter into biennial combat with their Democratic foes who have already shown they are prepared for the Goldwater selection, are happy about it, and expect to exploit it to their own advantage.

As the national Republican committee strategists and the Goldwater campaign managers appraise the map of the country, Wisconsin is one of the promising states.

Wisconsin may expect a fairly intensive campaign effort from Goldwater and the party, on the basis of its electoral behavior in the past.

publican nominee in four out of the last five presidential elections.

If this state cannot be listed as prospectively friendly territory, then the Goldwater campaign has dubious prospects, indeed, as campaign planners see it.

Contemplating a seemingly nominal re-election problem in his own Seventh Congressional District this year, Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Marshfield will be under considerable demand for stumping on behalf of other congressional candidates and the national party ticket in other parts of the country.

The man who caught the notice of the nation for his work as chairman of the Republican convention platform committee has already been scheduled tentatively for numerous appearances in other parts of the nation by the Republican congressional campaign committee, reported Ed Terrill, a former Wisconsin man who is one of the staff workers of that organization.

At one of the numerous high level receptions held in the convention headquarters hotel where many of the Wisconsin politicians were lucky to have quarters during the last week, a former Republican president, a former Republican presidential nominee, and the prospective Republican nominee of this year were observed in animated conversation.

What were Mr. Eisenhower, Mr. Nixon and Mr. Goldwater chatting about?

One observer pressed close for eavesdropping and offered this account:

They were talking about the strain of shaking thousands of hands during a political campaign and the best grips to use to reduce wear and tear.

Some Wisconsin delegates and visitors found the city of San Francisco and its pleasant and beautiful diversions more costly in personal budget terms than they had anticipated.

Probably an average expenditure of $1,000 for the politician and his wife who stayed a week is a conservative figure. Several persons were overheard saying that Chicago should be the site for future conventions of both parties, by mutual consent, and of the country.

Stock Market Prices Slip

Steels, Motors And Utilities Off Fractions

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices slipped into the minus column early this afternoon after a wobbly opening. Volume was not better than moderate.

Prices had opened at historic peaks, as measured by the market averages. However, no upward push developed despite almost universal Wall Street opinion that the six-week rally would be lengthened.

Oils, rails and some building material issues provided a majority of the list's plus signs. Steels, motors and utilities were generally off small fractions.

At noon, The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 4 from its all-time high, at 321.6. Industrial were off 1.8, rails up .1 and utilities down 2.

Du Pont opened more than a point higher but soon was selling more than 1/4 lower than Friday's close. Kodak had an early fractional gain turned into a loss of more than 2.

GM, which set historic highs in four of last week's sessions, showed a loss of about a point. Ford and Chrysler fell fractions while American Motors was unchanged and Studebaker up a minimum fraction.

Among the steels, U.S. Steel and Jones and Laughlin were off fractions while Republic was unchanged and Bethlehem up a bit.

Pennsylvania was strong in the rail group, adding more than a point at one time and then cutting the advance to below a point.

At noon, the Dow Jones industrial average was down .70 at 850.65.

Fractional gainers among the oils included Standard of New Jersey and Standard of Indiana and Texaco.

Hot, Sticky Temperatures Grip Nation

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hot, sticky temperatures continued a firm grip on most of the nation today and thunderstorms in some areas made conditions more uncomfortable.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the sultry weather may be replaced soon by cooler weather in portions of New England and the Midwest.

Early morning temperatures indicated no letup, however.

90 at Midnight
Yuma, Ariz., was 90 at midnight and the mercury lodged in the 80s as far north as central Wisconsin.

The tropical air produced a host of thunderstorms which roamed from northern Minnesota to western Missouri, through northern Wisconsin, over the southern Ohio Valley into the Carolinas.

Hot temperatures prevailed over the Far West.

Heavy Thunderstorms
The heavy thunderstorms caused some creek overflow in southern Texas.

Who Is an Extremist Now?

There have been major objections from the so-called liberal or moderate Republicans to the candidacy of Sen. Barry Goldwater. It was charged that many of his enthusiastic backers were "extremists" of the ultra right wing variety who wanted to lug the United States back into the Nineteenth Century. Another argument was that Goldwater couldn't possibly win in November. Now the opposition, as expressed in the eastern newspapers, is showing some strange "extremism" itself and a suddenly revealed fear that Goldwater might have a pretty good chance of victory.

James Reston announced that the danger of Goldwater was not that he is impulsive or that he might shoot from the hip and regret his hasty decisions when it was too late to retract them. Instead, wrote Reston, the real danger is that Goldwater is a serious and dedicated man who believes firmly in the things he has said in criticism of foreign and domestic United States policies. The next day the New York Times dragged out various quotes to show that Goldwater didn't really have any solid opinions on anything that he might not change. The fact that he had moderated earlier opinions was apparently considered as dangerous by the Times.

Much of the eastern press has waxed hysterical over its portrait of what would happen to the Republican party if Goldwater were nominated and then over what would happen to the nation should he be elected. The party would be destroyed without any doubt; in fact it would probably fall apart before the delegates managed to get home from San Francisco. Republican congressmen and senators coming up for re-election in the fall would be mowed down as if with a scythe. Said one newspaper editorially, the Republican convention was "traveling down its last mad mile" and when the delegates get home "they are going to find a great many fellow Republicans asking why . . . they perpetrated this awful folly."

But in spite of the fact that the Republican organization was going to collapse, there were even more dire warnings of what would happen if Goldwater should win, something declared absolutely impossible before the convention. S. L. Sulzberger directly intoned that "American elections are capable of great surprises." In the party platform he finds the encouragement for the United States Information Agency to "mount a psychological warfare attack" against communism and to "broadcast not our weaknesses but our strengths"—something we naively believed it is supposed to have been doing all these years. But Sulzberger sees this as a threat of a return to the days of none other than Joseph McCarthy and "book burning." Sulzberger, who certainly must be redecorating his fall-out shelter, concludes that Goldwater is only a day-before-yesterday man and "the possibility exists that, should he enter the White House, there might never be a day-after-tomorrow."

This is hysterical nonsense of the inclusive kind the liberals condemn.

We have yet to see how Senator Goldwater will conduct his campaign. We have rather suspected that if his backers are mainly the ultra right wing, they may be in for some disappointments; reversing the massive machinery of the federal government is a mighty project and despite the claims of both Goldwater's opposition and some of his backers, he is not completely in favor of either attacking the Russians or disbanding the federal establishment.

But he certainly does not have the exclusive backing of all the extremists in the country; there are quite a few among the eastern liberal opposition.

We Still Want a Full-Time City Attorney

Members of the Appleton Common Council acted wisely last week in referring back to committees a recommendation that a part-time city attorney be hired for $3,600 a year. The chairmen of the Finance and Personnel Committees asked that the matter be sent back for further study.

The No. 1 order of business for the Common Council now is to have the entire picture reviewed and first to make a determination as to whether Appleton needs a full-time city attorney. At present this city of over 50,000 population has an elected, part-time city attorney who receives $6,900 a year, plus expenses when handling city litigation.

We have said before—and repeat again—that it surely would be foolish for this city to suddenly find itself with two part-time assistant attorneys.

The job of city attorney should be full-time and a salary set commensurate with the duties and responsibilities of the all-important office. It must be remembered that the city attorney is representing a $10 million a year business—city government.

It is difficult, indeed, to understand the position taken by City Atty. Frederick E. Froehlich when he recommends that he be given a part-time assistant, and that he make the appointment.

While the Finance and Personnel Committees are taking a second look at the proposal calling for a part-time assistant, it might be well for the Welfare-Ordinance Committee also to get into the act. In fact, the Welfare-Ordinance Committee is way overdue, having failed to "report out" an ordinance submitted several months ago calling for establishing the office of city attorney on a full-time basis.

The Common Council had $20,000 budgeted for 1964 for the city attorney's office, the understanding being that it would be a full-time position. The Council should put this ordinance into effect as soon as possible.

An alternative is to put the question to a referendum vote in the November election, and if the Council does not wish to take responsibility, this should then be done.

The record dictates that Appleton needs full-time legal counsel.

Trouble in East Germany

Although the lines of rigid adherence to Communist slogans and policies have softened visibly in most of the Eastern European satellite nations, until recently East Germany appeared to be more like Red China. But now there are signs that economic problems which plague so many Communist lands will force Walter Ulbricht to change even his image. The posters and the photographs of the Communist gods are still in evidence but the tones are softening.

"We are not troublemakers," said one high Red official almost placatingly. "All we ask of you in the West is that you recognize the German Democratic Republic as the reality it is."

But the trouble goes deeper. The Berlin Wall and the isolation forced by the Reds on East Germany has meant that the West too can play at the little game of suspicion and bureaucratic foolery.

Some time ago, for instance, an East German machine installed in England developed a minor fault. The East German officials, naturally anxious to increase the sales and efficiency of their products, hastily dispatched a mechanic familiar with the machine. But the red tape of getting him out of East Germany, through West Germany and into England managed to delay his arrival by three months. The Allied Travel Board in West Berlin retains the right to determine which East Germans are granted travel documents to enter NATO countries and such boards can take a lot of time when encouraged to do so. The right of course is in retaliation for the Communist bar on travel of anyone it doesn't want to let in.

There hasn't been a word from Ulbricht in recent months about the proposed—or threatened—Russian-East German treaty. Such a treaty could force more communications between Allied representatives and the officials of the East German government, not recognized by the West. The line has definitely changed and certainly the orders came from Moscow. At this period in history the word is accommodation and a sweet sad smile. Actually the reasons involve both the firmness shown by the West about stopping of convoys on the autobahns and other Communist breaches of agreements and the sad economic plight of East Germany. This is especially serious as it is in contrast to the thriving picture in West Germany.

Of course it is obvious that if the orders come for a tougher line, the East German puppets will nod and bow and repeat what they are told to say. But nevertheless, every time conditions are relaxed, it may be just that much harder to tighten them up again without calling out the security police. The "evolution" of communism in some countries may be a possibility if only because a revolution would be the alternative.

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Aug. 4, 1964.

The Atlanta, Ga., Register of a recent date says: "Ex-President Pierce, Seymour, Vallandigham, Reed, Wood, Richardson and hundreds of others are as hostile to the war as to Black Republicanism."

"These men are doing us indirect service. They are not openly and avowedly our friends, nor could we reasonably ask this of them."

"If they did no more than resist the centralization of Mr. Lincoln, that far they are worthy of our respect and sympathy. If they held up the banner of State Rights, that far they are advocating a sentiment certainly entitled to our admiration."

"Such is the course they are pursuing and such a course ought to have our cordial approbations. Step-by-step the same convictions and the same temper that have braced them in compact uni-

Skeptical Audience Will Judge Goldwater on His Responsibility

BY MAX FREEDMAN

SAN FRANCISCO—Now at last Sen. Barry Goldwater has the chance to prove he is worthy of the leadership of the Republican Party and worthy of the presidency of this country.

Freedman

His victory was more than decisive. It was spectacular beyond all precedent. No other candidate in this century faced so bleak a furrow when he began the quest for the nomination so many long months ago; and no one has gathered so abundant a harvest.

This result is a tribute to his own qualities and to the organization he has created inside the Republican Party to carry out his principles. Four years ago those principles were defeated and repudiated at another Republican convention.

Now they are so triumphant summer months. The Fox Cities group included Mrs. Henry Liethen, Mrs. Harold Forster, Mrs. A. E. Bachhuber, Mrs. A. M. Bachhuber, Mrs. George Greenwood, Mrs. Paul O'Brien, and the Misses Constance Flanagan, Dolores and Leone Jacobs, Margaret Ann Zwicker, Rose Schmitz, Mary Rose Haug, Margaret Walsh and Marjorie Hall.

The Rev. R. E. Ziesemer, pastor of Mt. Olive Lutheran Church, Appleton, was honored by his congregation and the Fox River Valley Conference the previous evening in celebration of the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry. He came to the Appleton Lutheran church in 1915.

Andrew Schlitz was chairman of the children's picnic being held by the Fraternal Order of Eagles at Erb Park the next Sunday. Other members of his committee included Anton Liesch, Al Becker, Henry Strutz, A. Lester Koch, Elmer Koerner and Leonard Hanstedt.

10 YEARS AGO
Monday, July 19, 1954

The Rev. H. E. Simon, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, declined a call to another Missouri synod church in Ottawa, Canada, after his congregation unanimously expressed its desire that he remain in Appleton.

Members of the Appleton branch of the American Association of University Women planning the organization's 30th annual book sale included Miss Joan Kennedy, Mrs. LeRoy Stohman, Mrs. B. L. Browning and Mrs. A. H. Johnson.

Harold Van Dyke, Neenah, 9th District American Legion commander, was one of the leading candidates for vice commander of the state organization in convention at Madison. A native of Little Chute, Van Dyke was a veteran of World War II.

Jim Crust, Menasha, was general chairman and Ken Homes, Menasha, registration chairman of the golf jamboree of the Fox River Traffic Club at Butte des Moris course.

that the critics stand abashed at the power which must be broken before they can hope to regain the control of the party.

PARTY NOT DIVIDED

For the Republican Party will not be shattered by Goldwater's nomination. Of course there are some disgruntled leaders at this convention and there must be many disappointed Republican voters across the country. But the Democrats are following a dangerous illusion if they think they will be fighting a weak and divided and demoralized Republican Party in the presidential campaign.

The man who could impose himself in such decisive fashion on the Republican Party may also be able to impress far more Americans of his fitness to be president than the Democrats now allow themselves to believe.

Since he took his first hesitant step on the presidential trail Goldwater has always been berided and underestimated. President Johnson is unlikely to make that mistake. After all, elections are always unpredictable.

The very violence of the opposition to Goldwater tends to blind many of us to the forces that are committed to his support, and these forces will not be beaten without a struggle. After all, Clement Attlee defeated Winston Churchill in 1945 after Churchill had led Britain to victory in the war. If that upset was possible, anything can happen in this presidential election between now and November.

Certainly Goldwater has been greatly helped by the brave and magnanimous offer from Gov. William Scranton to campaign actively for him. This offer will be a guide to other Republican leaders who are opposed to Goldwater's philosophy.

Gen. Eisenhower, Richard Nixon, Gov. Scranton and Gov. George Romney will now take the lead in standing at Goldwater's side and helping to heal the bitter wounds left by this struggle for power.

IMPRESSIVE LINE-UP

That is an impressive lineup, and once again the Democrats should ponder its meaning.

So should Goldwater. His campaign can rise to the height of the great national argument only if he thinks he has a serious chance of victory in November and conveys that conviction to the country.

He is not conducting a seminar on conservatism. He is no longer an apostle of a personal philosophy in American politics. He is seeking the presidency in a campaign where indiscretion is disastrous and where constant responsibility is the secret of victory.

In the last few weeks he has on the whole behaved with a growing sense of responsibility. Now he must prove that he can grow into presidential timber. The audience is skeptical but he still has the chance to reverse its verdict.

State Is Now Studying If Expenditure Growth Rate Can Be Slowed

BY JOHN P. REYNOLDS

MADISON—Every boy who goes to a football game knows that there are two sides to the coin that is tossed before the game begins. The side which turns up determines which way the team will go—what goal it will attempt to reach. But during the game the goals will be switched.

Reynolds

Likewise, there are two sides to the coin of government finance—revenues (or taxes) and expenditures. Both are important. At the first toss of the coin, your Wisconsin Legislature chose the goal of tax reform. Now it has changed goals and has begun a thorough study leading toward hoped for expenditure reform.

This modern game of tax and expenditure revision has continued for the last 15 years. Three major tax studies were made—by the Laird Committee in 1950, the Sammond Committee in 1957 and the Blue Ribbon Committee in 1960. The research staff of the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance was requested to serve as consultants to each of these three groups.

The Blue Ribbon Committee, relying on facts developed by previous committees and as a result of its own investigations, laid out a blueprint for the Wisconsin tax system in the future. Not all the recommendations of the committee were adopted, but it is probably safe to assume that additional recommendations will find their way into the statute books in future years.

ELSEWHERE TOO

Despite increases in individual income tax rates in 1961 and 1963 and the adoption of a selective sales tax in 1961 and its extension in 1963, governmental spending has continued to grow at a faster pace than tax revenues. If it is any comfort, Wisconsin is not alone in this respect. The problem confronts all states in varying degrees and at different times. A recent report of the Federation of Tax Administrators shows that in each of the last 10 years (1954-63), total state general revenues fell short of the growth in general state expenditures. This report was for the 50 states.

In Wisconsin, the problem of expenditures exceeding revenues remains acute. The 1963 legislature concluded that attention must be focused on ways and means to slow the increase in state spending. It was for this reason that the committee of 25 (Gold Ribbon Committee) was created with the specific assignment to investigate in detail the way in which the state is spending its money and to determine if there are methods to slow the continuing rise in state appropriations.

The problems facing the committee of 25 are enormous. The area of education may be used to illustrate.

When a child enters the first grade, he may be his parents' little darling but he also costs the taxpayer about $300 a year until he finishes the eighth grade. He is of interest to both the state and local governments because state aid to the school district takes some of the load off the local property tax.

At the high school level, the student's public school cost averages about $537 per year.

Projections of elementary and high school enrollments indicate an increase from 723,100 in 1962-63 to 845,400 in 1969-70.

THEN COLLEGE

Now the youth may want to go to college—possibly to one of the state colleges or to the University of Wisconsin or one of its extension centers. Here the costs are higher and the numbers are of even greater concern. Projections indicate an increase in enrollment at Wisconsin's public institutions of high learning from 70,300 in 1964 to 141,100 in 1973.

But the ultimate problem may occur when the student graduates, either from high school or from college. Will he be able to find a job in the state and become a taxpayer? Or will he have to seek employment elsewhere because industry has not expanded sufficiently to produce the necessary jobs?

In solving this problem a delicate balance is involved—that of providing government services, such as education, on one side while keeping government costs and taxes at a level that will encourage industrial expansion and more jobs on the other.

There are several ways that industrial expansion can be encouraged. One is to have a tax system that is comparable with other states. Another is to emphasize the many good features of Wisconsin. Both methods depend on the interest and assistance of all Wisconsin citizens.

John P. Reynolds, a professional expert in state fiscal affairs, lectures widely as a vice president of the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance.

Wallace Withdraws as A Serious Candidate

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — who has made a career of Alabama's segregationist government, George C. Wallace, is no novice in hopping from position to position. He has hopped out of the race just four days again, this time in announcing after Goldwater got the Republican withdrawal as an independent nomination candidate for president.

His present reluctance to benefit Sen. Barry Goldwater, who has said no Republican can hope to win this year's election without the support of the anti-civil rights forces and the Southern vote is this year's civil rights bill, was expected to cut into President Johnson's Southern margin by capturing a lot of the segregationists' votes. But Wallace would have won a lot of them, too, if he ran.

Southern Vote
By running, Wallace would probably have hurt Goldwater more than Johnson. Wallace didn't say Sunday which candidate he will back. He indicated he would say more after next month's Democratic convention.

Wallace did say he would support whichever major party candidate proved to be the more conservative and zealous in holding the principles of free enterprise, local government and state's rights. It's Goldwater's segregationist government, who has made a career of Alabama's segregationist government, George C. Wallace, is no novice in hopping from position to position. He has hopped out of the race just four days again, this time in announcing after Goldwater got the Republican withdrawal as an independent nomination candidate for president.

His present reluctance to benefit Sen. Barry Goldwater, who has said no Republican can hope to win this year's election without the support of the anti-civil rights forces and the Southern vote is this year's civil rights bill, was expected to cut into President Johnson's Southern margin by capturing a lot of the segregationists' votes. But Wallace would have won a lot of them, too, if he ran.

Southern Vote
By running, Wallace would probably have hurt Goldwater more than Johnson. Wallace didn't say Sunday which candidate he will back. He indicated he would say more after next month's Democratic convention.

Wallace did say he would support whichever major party candidate proved to be the more conservative and zealous in holding the principles of free enterprise, local government and

Flowers I have known

I know Queen Anne's lace. Although the plant is bitterly hated by the farmer for it intrudes itself everywhere, Queen Anne's lace is pretty and suggestive also of the lady ruff which was popular in the days of Anne.

Truly, though, the plant is the ancestor of our table carrot. For that reason we must try to be forgiving of its intrusion in cultivated fields. Queen Anne's lace blossoms in delicate lacery from June to September. When the frosts come the flowers become brown and unattractive. Its root is deep, conical and fleshy and one may guess from its appearance that it is a near-relative of our garden carrot though the wild relative is thin and woody.

Although the domestication of the carrot dates back far beyond the time of recorded history, the pro-vitamin A vegetable was seldom used in the United States until about 1920. Understanding of its food value at that time and improved production methods as well as the ease of shipment has made the carrot a favorite year-around vegetable.

Pliny (23-79 A.D.) reported that he first saw the carrot in a shipment from Candia (Crete) and it is thought that the Dutch brought the first carrots to England in about 1560.

By the 1600s, the ladies of England were wearing decorative carrot leaves in their hair a pleasant fashion which lasted for years.

Negroes who had been marching toward the funeral home.

After the services the boy's mother, Annie Powell, was assisted into a limousine, where she collapsed.

As the family left, a sound truck drew up and Negro leaders broadcast appeals for order.

Rustin pleaded with the crowd: "I urge you to go home. We know there has been an injustice done. But out of respect to Mrs. Powell, I ask you to be law-abiding and go home." He was booed.

At a church rally before the services, one speaker was cheered when he suggested that "the African people got respect when they took guns and started shooting."

Sunday night's disturbances followed by only a few hours a plea by acting Mayor Paul R. Screvane for calm. Mayor Robert F. Wagner is in Europe.

About the time funeral services were under way, bottles and other missiles began crashing in the street. Patrolmen waving nightsticks, began charging into crowds that poured from behind police barricades.

Police fired shots into the air. Three bus loads of anti-riot policemen arrived. People began getting knocked to the ground.

Robert E. Daly, 45, a news cameraman for the Columbia Broadcasting System, said 25 Negroes attacked him and three camera crew members while they were taking pictures. Daly, who was hospitalized, said he was beaten with clubs and fists.

John Orris, a New York Times photographer, was punched in the eye by one of a group of Negroes. One bottle struck a Negro police sergeant.

New York's 26,000-man police force was put on 12-hour shifts until further notice because of the explosive situation.

The Negro killed Saturday night was identified through fingerprints as Jay Jenkins, 41, an ex-convict with a record of 10 arrests, police said. They said he had been standing on the roof of a four-story building hurling bricks.

The injured showgirl was Carolyn Fawcett, 24. Both she and her escort, Jack Lambert, 29, required hospital treatment.

Lambert and Miss Fawcett were on their way to the Stadium Motor Lodge, which Lambert owns with Cleve Boyer.

New York Yankees baseball team third baseman When the mob started hurling missiles at the car, Lambert said, he told Miss Fawcett to lie on the floor while he tried to put up the convertible top.

Miss Fawcett, who came here from England 2 1/2 years ago, suffered head gashes. Lambert suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Miss Fawcett also lost her handbag containing her apartment keys, immigration papers and $20 in cash.

Harlem has been in recent turmoil over tenement conditions, Negro charges of police brutality, and inadequate schools.

Official Issues Appeal Commissioner Murphy issued an appeal to be read in Harlem churches at Sunday services calling for "calm, lawful action."

Unprovoked attacks against police, Murphy said, "have been met by swift and necessary police action."

During the Saturday night battle, police ran out of ammunition and boxloads of shells had to be rushed in.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm, public relations man for the department, blamed the riots on "rowdies."

He said they had the same purpose—looting—and the same excuse—alleged police brutality—as Harlem rioters in 1935 and 1943.

Earlier Outbreak In 1935, one person was killed and 100 injured in a Harlem riot set off by reports that police had beaten a 16-year-old youth.

In 1943, five were killed and 500 injured in riots touched off when a Negro soldier was wounded by a policeman.

The 1943 riot, as on Saturday night, started at the 123rd Street police station.

In the Brownsville slum area of Brooklyn, six persons were shot and a youth hit by acid as long-standing enmity between Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the area boiled over Saturday night.

Police said snipers operating from roofs and behind parked cars accounted for most of those wounded.

Two policemen suffered minor injuries and six persons were arrested on weapons charges.

Others felt the withdrawal would have no effect on the race between Republican candidate Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and President Johnson.

"I'm going to call the group together that's been working with me on unpledged electors and ask them to form an organization of Democrats for Goldwater," said Roy V. Harris, of Augusta, Ga., a campaign worker for Wallace.

Harris said he will attempt to have chapters of the Goldwater organization in every county and, if possible in every precinct. "I believe we will have a majority of the white people in the state with us," he said.

Former Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, a close ally of Wallace, said he would vote for Goldwater. "I have not left the Democratic party," he said. "They have left me."

Republican Chairman Newton Steers of Maryland said he believes "a substantial fraction of the vote that went for Wallace in the presidential primary will go to Goldwater."

Louisiana GOP Chairman Charlton Lyons Sr. said "The governor is to be strongly commended. He has proved that he places the good of his country above political expediency. The withdrawal of Gov. Wallace will redound to the benefit of Sen. Goldwater."

William Spicer, Arkansas Republican chairman, and Wirt Yerger Jr., Mississippi GOP chairman, both said they felt Goldwater's chances would be enhanced.

Tennessee Democratic Chairman Jimmy Peeler and Democratic party treasurer Joe C. Carr both said they doubted the withdrawal would have any effect. Peeler said he believed Johnson would carry the state.

said "A third candidate would only muddy the water."

Maurice Bessinger, chairman of the Wallace movement in South Carolina, said he had known for some time that Wallace would withdraw. He urged Wallace followers to stick with their leader even though he had withdrawn.

Sidney Kellam, a Virginia Democratic national committeeman, said he doubted the withdrawal would have any effect in Virginia, but U.S. Rep. Watkins M. Abbott, Virginia Democratic chairman, conceded that Wallace's move enhances Goldwater's chances.

Plotters Against Adolf Hitler; Were They Heroes or Traitors?

BY JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP)—Twenty years ago, the fate of postwar Germany rested for a few precarious hours in the hands of a small but courageous group of men.

Had the plot to kill Adolf Hitler with a bomb succeeded on July 20, 1944, the war could have ended 18 months earlier. Hundreds of thousands of lives—perhaps a million—might have been saved and much of Germany spared destruction.

The act of assassination failed to a young German army colonel, crippled by war wounds and filled with hatred against Nazism.

Count Claus von Stauffenberg, chief of staff to the commander of the home army, carried the bomb in a brief case to the heavily guarded briefing room of Hitler's field headquarters in East Prussia.

Placed Bomb

Holding the case in the remaining three fingers of his right hand—his left hand had been shot off—Von Stauffenberg balanced it under a massive table just a few feet away from where Hitler stood.

Then he left the room, saying he was expecting an important telephone call from Berlin. When he reached the outer perimeter of the security area, he heard the explosion. Flames and smoke burst out of the briefing room. The colonel hurried to a waiting plane and flew back to the capital.

"Hitler is dead," he reported to the group of men who for years had plotted to oust the dictator.

The clique was ready for action, taking over the police and the local army garrison. This was to be followed by an announcement that Hitler was dead, that a new government of anti-Nazis had taken over to sue for peace. At that time, neither Soviet nor Western armies had crossed Germany's borders.

Not Dead

But Hitler was not dead. An officer at the briefing room had moved the brief case after Von Stauffenberg left, pushing it behind a heavy oak leg of the table, which shielded the dictator from much of the blast. Two staff officers were killed, several others were severely wounded, but Hitler suffered only arm wounds, some burns and a bad shock.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels told the German people over Berlin radio that Hitler was alive and the Gestapo, under Heinrich Himmler, moved to liquidate the plotters. Within hours, thousands of submitted: Anson Ballard, John men were in Gestapo jails

These included military commanders at home and in the field, men in government and politicians. Many were shot without trial almost immediately, some committed suicide, thousands of others were executed later.

First to Die

Those to die first included Von Stauffenberg, Col. Gen. Fritz Oster, who was the main, and Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck, former chief of staff.

Hitler himself, upon being told the full extent of the plot, flew into a rage and issued this for the execution of the participants: "I want them to be hanged, hung up like carcasses of meat."

The order was faithfully carried out. The men who died so soon today at Berlin's Plötzensee Prison. The room now is a memorial.

Plans to unseat Hitler had been hatched for many years, even before the war started. But not until about 1943 or 1944 did anyone voice the intention to kill the Fuehrer.

Loyalty Oath

Some felt they could not break the oath of loyalty they had sworn. Others feared that Hitler might become a martyr. Stauffenberg had doubts about killing Hitler but put them out of his mind when the Gestapo arrested and executed his closest friend, Socialist Julius Leber.

The hard core of the German resistance movement was a group called the "Kreisauer Kreis," named after the estate of Count Helmuth von Moltke, where the first serious anti-Hitler discussion was held in 1940. With Moltke was Count Peter York von Wartenburg. The circle grew from year to year.

One of the few intimates of the plot to survive is York's wife, Marion. At 60, she is a judge at the Moabit Juvenile Court in West Berlin, sitting just a corridor away from the cell where she was imprisoned by the Gestapo.

Still Active

The most prominent member of the "Kreis" still active in West Germany's political life is Eugene Gerstenmaier, president of the Bundestag—Parliament. He had been sentenced to seven years in jail by the Nazis.

Did the attempt to kill Hitler accomplish anything at all? Were the sacrifices all in vain?

"It created some respect for us again in the world," says Pastor Harald Poelchau, the Protestant minister who accompanied more than 1,000 men to the gallows.

Although Poelchau maintains that Germany's youth is intensely interested in the 20th of July plot, Countess York says she is worried that youth is not being told the straight story.

Nazi Atrocities

"The trouble is that many parents, when asked by their children how they could have permitted the Nazi atrocities, feel they must justify the fact that their heads were not chopped off," the countess says. "I am not worried about the old Nazis. I am worried about the new ones."

One can still today hear arguments in Germany whether the men of the 20th of July were heroes or traitors.

The West German government has taken a stand on the side of the plotters as patriots whose lives and liberty were less important than the over-all welfare of their nation. These patriots will be honored again Monday in a solemn ceremony here in which West German President Heinrich Luebbe and Gerstenmaier will participate.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Dorell, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Dorell, Ph.D.

DO WE OVER-PROTECT OUR CHILDREN? YES ☐ NO ☐

Yes, say some psychologists. We are so eager to make them "happy" and to make sure they don't get hurt, that we shelter them unduly. As a result, they have to get the experience that is necessary to solve their own problems for themselves. Toughness and strength of character can come only through overcoming frustrating and difficult problems. You cannot train good football players if you keep them always in nicely heated rooms. When you really love your children, you send them out on the playing fields of life and let them get some experience.

Learn more about this by reading the "straight-talk" booklet, "Your Child's Emotional Health." It's yours for 25 cents and your name and address sent to "Let's Explore Your Mind," care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

Is public opinion always effective?

Yes—

No—

No. This is partly because of what psychologists sometimes call "pluralistic ignorance." "Everybody" thinks that everybody else thinks or behaves in a certain way. As a result, when they do "wrong," they may try to conceal their conduct from others, thus perpetuating the illusion. In time, however, the young people are likely to "catch on" and to accuse their elders of hypocrisy. For a code to be effective, it must be one in which people really believe and, on the whole, actually observe.

Rate Your Emotional Maturity. Send for "How to Be an Emotional Growup," and see for yourself why some people never "grow up." Find your own weaknesses and some expert pointers toward recognizing your own shortcomings. The booklet is 20 cents. Send a stamped, return envelope along with the money, to "Let's Explore Your Mind," care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

Countess 'Screams' Thief Out of Room, Saves $40,000 Jewels

ROME (AP)—Countess Consuelo Crespi screamed a thief out of her home apartment Saturday and saved herself $40,000 worth of jewels.

The countess, former New York socialite Consuelo O'Connor, often has been rated one of the world's 10 best-dressed women.

Police gave this account: A thief broke into the apartment when the countess and countess were out of town. They returned shortly after midnight and caught sight of the thief badly pilfering away. Countess Crespi issued a piercing scream that so frightened the intruder he dropped most of his loot as he fled.

He got away with $21,000 in jewelry, but in his panic dropped gems worth $60,000.

Milwaukee Boy Drowned in Lake Helping Companion

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A 15-year-old South Milwaukee boy apparently drowned in Lake Michigan Sunday night after helping a companion who had fallen off a jetty at Grant Park Beach.

Search for David Coombs, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis J. Coombs, continued until 2 a.m. today and was resumed this morning. The Coast Guard and members of the South Milwaukee Yacht Club participated.

South Milwaukee police said David and a friend, Dennis Morgan, 12, were at the end of a jetty extending from the main Grant Park Beach where Oak Beach empties into the lake. Dennis slipped and fell into the water. David jumped in and pushed Dennis back up on the jetty, but went under himself.
